Robin Sets Where Home Wired for Heat

The weather may have turned cooler today, but signs of spring are still all around. Times cameraman Bill Halkett invaded the privacy of Mother Robin to get this shot among high-tension power lines near BCER sub-station at Bay and Government. Mother was not distressed or disturbed despite the killing wires near at hand.

STRIKE VOTE MOVE SCORED

Labor Leaders See Premier's Statement as 'Election Bait'

EGYPTIANS ON VERGE OF SHEDDING MONARCHY

CAIRO (UP)—The 5,000-year-old kingdom of Egypt appeared today to be on the verge of shedding its ancient monarchy in favor of a parliamentary republic. A 50-man committee appointed by Premier Mohammed Naguib to rewrite the 1923 constitution agreed unanimously Tuesday night to abolish the throne, subject to popular approval in a referendum.

Five sub-committees were appointed to work out details of various sections of the proposed Republican constitution.

Naguib already has given implied approval to the Republican plan. When he junked the old constitution in December, he declared he would give Egypt a government in which "all power derives from the people."

Since then, government spokesmen have said Egypt has "no further use" either for exiled ex-king Farouk or for his son, infant King Ahmed Fuad II.

Christie Committed, Pleads Not Guilty

Murder Hearing of British Clerk Marked by Revival of Evans Case

LONDON (UP)—Thin, nearsighted John R. Christie was ordered today to stand trial for murder. The Notting Hill clerk is accused of luring young women to his dingy flat, strangling them and hiding their bodies in the walls, floor and garden of his home.

The baldish, 55-year-old clerk and former volunteer policeman will stand trial in London's Old Bailey sometime late in June.

He will be tried on an indictment accusing him of only one of the series of murders of which he is suspect.

But a total of eight murders—including two for which another man was hanged—were mentioned in today's preliminary hearing in which he was bound over for trial.

Derek Curtis-Bennett, famous criminal lawyer who is defending Christie, startled courtroom spectators by pointing out that two victims of a 1949 murder in the same house in which Christie lived were tied and garroted in the same way Christie has confessed, killing four women.

Christie was the chief witness at the trial of Timothy Evans, who was executed after he was found guilty of killing his wife, Mrs. Timothy Evans, and their young daughter, Geraldine.

Evans admitted following his arrest that he had strangled his wife and daughter in a shoddy tenement building where Christie also resided and which came to be known as "murder house."

But Evans withdrew his confession and accused Christie, then a volunteer policeman, of committing the murders.

Christie is accused of slaying his wife, Ethel, 54, and three younger women—Rita Nelson, 24, Kathleen Maloney, 26, and Hecitorina MacLennan, 27.

Mrs. Christie's body was found under the floorboards of a room in her husband's apartment in "murder house."

The bodies of the three strangled women had been entombed in a small wall alcove which was sealed with gaily-colored wallpaper.

Skeletons of two other persons were found buried in a garden near Christie's apartment.

Christie, caught in a nationwide manhunt, can be tried for only one murder at a time. The prosecution said, however, he would be indicted separately for each murder.

Kirkland Lake Miner Found by Searchers

KIRKLAND LAKE, Ont. (CP)—The body of Leo Murray, 25, one of two miners buried at the 4,900-foot level of the Wright Hargreaves gold mine by a rock blast nine days ago, was recovered Tuesday night.

It was not known whether Murray had been crushed to death or suffocated.

Mine workers are still seeking the body of Leon Wojcikowski, 39, who was working with Murray when they were trapped.

Talks May Lead To UN Action In Indo-China

THREE FEARED DEAD IN SHIP COLLISION

507 Saved After Ferry Rammed In North Sea

HARWICH, Eng. (UP)—The British Railways said tonight that three persons were feared dead aboard its steamer, Duke of York, which was rammed and cut in half early today by the American military cargo ship, Haiti Victory.

HARWICH, Eng. (AP)—Two American ships brought hundreds of passengers to safety today from a British channel ferry sliced through in a pre-dawn collision with an American transport in the North Sea.

Survivors were landed here and at Dover after a quick transfer of passengers 40 miles off Harwich on England's east coast averted a sea disaster. A woman and her baby were trapped for several hours in the listing ferry.

All of the passengers, most of them British army families returning home from Germany, were from the 4,190-ton Duke of York.

The steamer and the 7,607-ton transport Haiti Victory rammed into each other near Galloper lighthouse. The Duke of York had 437 passengers aboard and crew of 70, officials said.

The Haiti Victory brought the bulk of the passengers ashore here despite an eight-foot gash in her bows six feet above the waterline.

She had the Duke of York in tow for a while but that task was taken over later by tugs. A 10,687-ton American-Hawaiian Steamship Company vessel, the American Merchant, took 91 survivors aboard and hurried to Dover with them. Four were reported seriously injured.

Damage to the Haiti Victory appeared superficial to that suffered by the ferry. Everything forward to the superstructure had disappeared on the Duke of York. Capt. R. B. Adams, her master, and a skeleton crew of 15 remained aboard to work the vessel, which was reported taking some water.

Police Question 764 Mau Mau Held After Big Round-Up

NAIROBI, Kenya (UP)—Police today began questioning 764 Mau Mau suspects seized in the biggest round-up since the secret murder ring began its reign of terror in this British African colony.

Even while the dragnet was out, Mau Mau hatchet men were busy. They hacked a native child to death with their pangas — bush knives — and wounded his mother.

Police sifted 736 of the suspects out of a crowd of natives that surrounded Nairobi's suburban Karikori market. Many others seized in the market were released after brief interrogation.

Zero Progress Reported in Truce Talks

PANMUNJOM (AP)—A United Nations truce negotiator said today "zero" progress had been made toward a Korean armistice after the Reds rejected a proposal to free 32,000 North Korean prisoners who refuse to go home after a truce is signed.

The Reds again ignored the Allied nomination of Pakistan as neutral custodian of 48,500 prisoners who refuse to return to their Communist homelands.

Instead, Gen. Nam Il charged the Allied proposal was "void of reason" and "unworthy of refutation." He reiterated the Red demand that balking captives be shipped to a neutral country and that the functions of the neutral be ironed out before deciding anything else.

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill said today additional countries were under consideration as neutral guardian of Korean war prisoners who do not want to return home.

Churchill told the House of Commons he still has hopes of a settlement that could lead to the end of the war.

He made the statements in answer to demands by Labor party members that British representatives and political as well as military men take part in the truce talks at Panmunjom.

GRAIN TO FLOW AGAIN AS WORKERS END STRIKE

FROM UP AND CP DISPATCHES

VANCOUVER—The West Coast grain workers' strike ended in its 80th day today when the strikers voted to accept a settlement plan with a 7½-cent hourly pay boost.

Elevator operators accepted the proposals Tuesday. Workers gained two additional paid statutory holidays and other fringe benefits.

Some workers were expected back on the job today getting the five giant terminals ready to spout grain into the holds of waiting ships early Thursday.

More than 6,500,000 bushels of wheat are stored in the five Vancouver and New Westminster elevators. Another 9,000,000 bushels are in 5,000 stalled grain cars on rail sidings throughout British Columbia.

Port officials said it would take from three weeks to a month to clear up the congestion and get the record flow of prairie grain to the West Coast back to normal.

LAING CHALLENGES SOCRED LEADERS

Liberal Leader Wants to Know if Top Men Subscribe to Complete Monetary Theories

"It would be provident for the people of B.C. to know whether Mr. Bennett, Mr. Bonner and Mr. Gunderson have signed a document that they accept all Social Credit monetary theories in full," Liberal Leader Arthur Laing said here today.

"I just received a letter from Ottawa over the signature of Rev. E. G. Hansell, MP, president of the Social Credit League, which says everyone who joins the movement is required to sign such a document."

"The financial theories of Solon Law and Rev. Hansell and John Blackmore would mean destruction of all Canadian savings and the Canadian economy in 24 hours."

"Eight months ago Premier Bennett cried 'on to Ottawa, on to Ottawa.' I call on him to explain what he meant."

Mr. Laing arrived in Victoria this morning for a full day of electioneering at the hands of the Social Credit League, which will be climaxed tonight by an address to a meeting in the lower ballroom of the Crystal Garden.

(Party officials said the meeting is open to the public, and everybody is welcome. All Greater Victoria Liberal candidates will be present.)

NO POLICY

Mr. Laing said Premier Bennett's policy speech at Summerland Monday night actually contained no policy.

"If the Social Credit party came in a year ago to fill a vacuum, they came only to increase the size of the vacuum. If it was a caretaker government, all B.C. is offered for the future is a caretaker government," he said.

The Liberal leader is alarmed "at the speed with which the Social Crediters are picking up mud and throwing it at their opponents."

From AP and UP Dispatches

Premier W. A. C. Bennett moved secretly in his June 9 election campaign through the British Columbia interior today to avoid Doukhobor violence.

Bennett disappeared after his visit to Penticton Tuesday. He was expected to show up in Grand Forks tonight.

All Bennett would say was that he did not want to reveal his movements because he was afraid of arousing Doukhobor violence during his drive through the Kootenays.

Meanwhile, other political speakers went into action last night as the political pot boiled for the June 9 provincial election.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said the "Rolson formula" for financing education would have saved Vancouver ratepayers two mills in 1953.

'PLANLESS'

Attacking a "planless" Opposition for throwing the Social Credit government out of power, Mr. Bonner said the other parties blundered in voting against the formula and now are trying to cover up.

CCF candidates for Vancouver Centre, James Bury and Mrs. Laura Jamieson, took turns lambasting the Social Credit government for its actions in the recent legislature session.

U.S. Consulting France, Thailand, Says Dulles

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States is discussing "possible United Nations action" to curb Communist aggression which he said threatens all southeast Asia and possibly Japan.

Dulles, testifying before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, branded the Red attack on the Indo-Chinese kingdom of Laos as "straight out aggression."

The secretary said "we are in conversation" with France, with Laos' neighbor, Thailand, and with Vietnam "with regard to possible UN action."

Dulles was testifying about President Eisenhower's new $5,800,000,000 foreign aid program, in which includes sizable sums to specific figures on military shipments to Indo-China, past or planned. But it said U.S. aid already has been a "major factor" in checking the Reds.

The appraisal submitted by Stassen said: "It is essential that the scale of United Nations military assistance (to Indo-China) be increased in order to assure the success of the resistance against Communist pressures."

Under the new foreign aid program, Indo-China would share in direct arms shipments to Asia totaling $1,001,000,000. In addition $400,000,000 is provided to help the French finance their war against the Reds.

The administration gave no

Thailand Next Target?

Thailand apparently is the next target, Dulles said. The fall of Laos and Thailand to the Reds would make the position of Burma "extremely acute," he added.

Stassen's testimony was based on data and appraisals prepared for Congress by the executive department. He emphasized that the fall of any free nation in Asia could "seriously" undermine the security of all.

The calm on the Laos invasion fronts indicated the Vietnam is awaiting fresh supplies and is regrouping before making an onslaught on Luang Prabang or Vietiane, the official capital.

Meanwhile, the build-up of French-Laotian defenses continued at Vientiane, a town of 20,000 population across the Mekong River from Thailand.

The Thais have begun moving 60,000 Vietnamese, mostly of Communist age, from along the northern border deep into west and northwestern Thailand as a precaution against Communist invasion.

The move was apparently aimed at preventing Vietnamese who fled into Thongbo border areas at the start of the Indo-China war from being swept up and used by the Vietnamese in the event Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh's forces reach the Mekong and try to extend their "liberation" program and cross into Thailand.

French intelligence reports have disclosed that three generals and four colonels who received their military training in Communist China are master-minding the Laos invasion.

Lull on Laos Front; Thai Marshals Forces

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—French Laotian patrols swept in a wide arc around the royal residence city of Luang Prabang in Laos today but failed to contact Communist-led Vietnamese troops.

The calm on the Laos invasion fronts indicated the Vietnam is awaiting fresh supplies and is regrouping before making an onslaught on Luang Prabang or Vietiane, the official capital.

Meanwhile, the build-up of French-Laotian defenses continued at Vientiane, a town of 20,000 population across the Mekong River from Thailand.

Political Pot

Social Crediters are having their internal troubles in various parts of British Columbia as party nominations develop into much sought-after prizes.

The latest comes from North Okanagan riding where E. A. Lecours, president of the riding association and a candidate for the nomination, accused his opponents within the party of "using dirty politics against me in the past 10 days."

Mr. Lecours was outvoted for the candidacy by former MLA and deputy speaker in the last House, Hugh Shantz of Vernon.

Smouldering discontent also is reported in the Fort George riding where Lew King, MLA in the last Legislature, was defeated in his bid for re-nomination by school inspector Ray Williston.

Two weeks ago the president of the Kamloops riding association, Walter J. Smith, publicly rapped Public Works Minister P. A. Gagliardi over the knuckles for campaigning for re-election before his nomination.

Mrs. Tom Hurley, wife of a prominent Vancouver lawyer, has launched a slander suit against two men over an allegation said to have been made during the 1952 provincial election.

Writes named as defendants: Douglas Wilkinson, editor of Indian Times, and Ralph Goodman, president of the Vancouver Centre Liberal Association.

Vancouver Island Dairymen's Association will sponsor political meetings where all candidates will discuss their farm policies.

Here's a list of the meetings: Royal Oak Institute Hall, June 3; Duncan Armories, June 4; and Nanaimo Legion Hall, June 1. All meetings will start at 8 p.m.

One meeting may be arranged for the Esquimalt riding.

"Rubbish — complete rubbish — was independent Mayor Claude L. Harrison's reply to Ald. Don Smith who said Ald. Brent Murdoch and A. H. Bishop should be expelled from the Social Credit party because they're supporting him."

MEETINGS TONIGHT

8 p.m. — Liberal Leader Arthur Laing and Greater Victoria candidates at lower ballroom, Crystal Garden.

8 p.m. — Mrs. Norah Lindsay, PC candidate in Saanich, and Dr. Norman Goodwin, Tory candidate in Esquimalt, at Vory Royal Community Hall.

CROSSWORD EXPERTS WIN ON ALTERNATES QUESTION

The dyed-in-the-wool crossword fans among Times readers have won their battle on the weekly crossword contest. They have complained bitterly because we printed possible alternate words for some of the definitions, claiming it was more fun to puzzle out their own answers.

As Mrs. F. C. Summerville of Patricia Bay puts it: "Give us back the challenge of finding our own words, even if we still must deal with a quibbler" (on definitions).

In the next crossword, appearing Friday, the alternates will not be given. Judges are working this afternoon on the entries to Puzzle No. 6. Results will be published tomorrow.

Kentucky Film Lecturer Brings Weird Film Here

A colored film featuring such oddities as walking ferns, shooting stars, flying squirrels and praying mantis, will be shown here Friday by Kentucky naturalist Walter H. Shackleton.

The film-lecture, to be held at the Crystal auditorium at 8 p.m., is sponsored by the Victoria Natural History Society. The film will also be shown to pupils of Oak Bay Junior High School Friday afternoon.

The film-lecture will mark the last of a series of nature films shown in Victoria since last fall. The meetings have been well attended, indicating an increasing public interest in all phases of wildlife, forest and soil conservation.

The wild animals and birds depicted in Mr. Shackleton's film were taken in the lakes, swamps, upland marshes and deep woods of Kentucky. The film shows 54 varied "nature oddities" and depicts the interplay of forces that tend to keep animals and plants within balance.

Donald Macdonald was named chairman of the foster homes committee. Others on this committee are Charles Davis, Jack Child and Mrs. Rivers.

Mr. Wilde heads the staff and finance committee with Mrs. F. E. Mutrie, G. Fitzpatrick Dunn, Mrs. Scourrah and Mr. Baker.

M. C. Stewart and Mr. Davis were named co-chairman of the Sunshine Camp committee. P. A. Fitzsimmons and Mr. Wilde will serve with them.

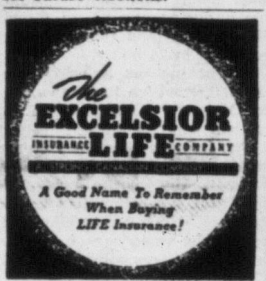

Dr. E. L. McNiven was named as the medical committee head and Miss Elizabeth Forbes, liaison to the women's auxiliary. Harry Bleasdale was named head of the publicity and public relations division.

Socreds Head List On June 9 Ballots

The provincial cabinet has passed an order-in-council outlining the order in which political parties will appear on ballots in the June 9 election.

Here is the order: Social Credit, CCF, Christian Democrat, Independents, Labor Progressive Party, Liberals and Progressive Conservatives.

The order was needed because the Elections Act only made provision for the 1952 election in this respect in multiple ridings. No provision was made for future elections.

Commons Protests U.S. Import Barriers

Opposition Motion Given Government Support; B.C. Claims Economy Injured

OTTAWA (BUP)—The Commons unanimously adopted an opposition motion today calling for "further vigorous" protests against U.S. restrictions on Canadian imports.

The motion was agreed to by the government majority after Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent accepted it as "an expression of the unanimous opinion of the House" rather than a want of confidence motion. He said he would use the motion to strengthen his hand when he discusses Canada-U.S. trade relations in Washington this week.

Premier's Labor Plan Disappoints

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Labor leaders representing some 35,000 provincial unionists declared their disappointment today over Premier W. A. C. Bennett's plan to revise the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act and to reduce the government's part in strike votes.

"We would have had more faith if Mr. Bennett had opened the act in the last session of the legislature," said Tom Albury, president of the Vancouver and District Trades and Labor Congress.

Bennett's plan, announced at Summerland this week, would leave the supervision of strike votes up to labor and management. The government would simply have a watching brief.

R. K. Gervin, secretary of the B.C. Trades Union Congress, described the premier's announcement as a feeble attempt at doing something for labor. Tom Bury, secretary of the Vancouver Labor Council, expressed similar sentiments.

Appeal Court Holds Builder To Judgment

B.C. Appeal Court Tuesday dismissed an appeal of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stanley Clements, Vancouver, seeking to have set aside a $1,330 Supreme Court judgment made against them by Mr. Justice J. M. Coady.

The Appeal Court upheld the Supreme Court judge's decision, which was made in favor of L. M. Cochrane.

The judgment was awarded when the court held there had been a breach of warranty with regard to the heating system in a house in Vancouver which the Clements sold to Cochrane. Cochrane paid $39,000 for the home.

He said Mr. Clements had told him the heating system was in excellent working order and that he would guarantee it for 20 years. Mr. Cochrane claimed the heating system was not satisfactory and that he had to install a new one.

Strengthening the West

THE COMPANION PIECE TO President Eisenhower's April 16 challenge to Russia to translate words of peace into deeds of peace was made public yesterday. His administration asked Congress to approve a $5.828 billion total mainly to provide arms for the United States' friends and allies.

"The blunt, sober truth is," said the President, "that we cannot afford to relax our defenses until we have seen clear, unmistakable evidence of genuinely peaceful purpose on the part of the Soviet Union."

The size of the appropriation and the possible reaction of Congress to it at once give hope and cause concern to the nations due to benefit.

This is a figure $1.7 billion below that proposed by former President Truman. But it is an amount greater than many in the Republican party are willing to see allocated for the purpose.

As a presidential candidate Gen. Eisenhower promised to cut costs. By scaling down the suggested Truman total, he has done that to a considerable degree. At the same time he has not brought it down to the point many of his supporters want. Before the vote is carried the President will have ample opportunity to determine his control over the administration and those forces in it which are not seized with his appreciation of international responsibility.

Foreign observers will recognize quite clearly the Eisenhower determination to face the "blunt, sober truth" as he sees it in the contest for strength between communism and the democracies. The President's realistic international convictions are unchallenged. But what outside observers must also keep in mind is the divergence from that point of view within the administration itself.

It was to those forces that State Secretary Dulles addressed the remarks: "The reduction is not as great as many of us would like to see, having regard to the need to balance the budget, to re-establish our currency and, eventually, to reduce taxes. The reduction is, however, as great as, in our judgment, can be reconciled with the essential security of the United States."

The $5.828 billion is earmarked largely, as the statement says, for "the defence efforts of our friends and allies." It shows once again President Eisenhower's assumption of free world leadership. It is another example of his decision not to relinquish the position he has taken in favor of negotiation from strength, though, as he stated clearly on April 16, he is willing to discuss a more stable peace on defined premises he has laid down for the Kremlin.

On The Wrong Channel

TO THE MANY ARGUMENTS raised against a system whereby the CBC is at once the licensing authority and competitor of private radio stations has been added a new complaint.

The comparison has often been used that the CBC is in the position that the CNR would occupy if the CNR, while competing with the CPR, also set the rules of competition, issued permits for the continued operation of the CPR, and in general acted as both prosecutor and judge.

That situation has been avoided by the establishment of the Board of Railway Commissioners, which body deals impartially with the competing lines under its jurisdiction. Some similarly impartial body has often been advocated for the field of radio. The current situation does much to advance the argument.

A Vancouver radio broadcaster of long standing in the industry has criticized the members of the Canadian Association of Broadcasters for their apparent sudden abandonment of the fight against government monopoly of the television field.

He sees in that a serious danger—a strong hint that the abandonment is due to the members' fears that any who oppose the CBC will find themselves on the short end when TV licenses are handed out. In other words, prospective television broadcasters may be moved to let principle go by the board in an effort to guarantee their continued existence in the industry.

A Matter of Values

MR. ARTHUR LAING, THE LIBeral leader, has struck an important note in his references to the dignity of the Legislature. He rightly outlines the danger: that if the dignity of the gathering is not maintained, "only men and women of no consequence will go to the Legislature. Others with ability will not want to become involved in politics."

That is a point often forgotten by those who disparage what they call the "outworn forms" of parliament, who want to cut through "all that red tape" and "streamline the whole thing."

Such critics do not realize that the formal usages of tradition and protocol are bulwarks against slovenliness in public life and protection against the degeneration of public affairs to the level of a market-place haggle.

Adherence to traditional procedures can do much to strengthen the deportment of members, and thereby make the Legislature a place of honor rather than ridicule and contempt. No man of integrity and worth will willingly become a party to childish squabbling and unbridled repartee in a gathering that has lost its self-respect.

But when the public forum for law-making is a place of politeness, dignity and regard for custom, then it is more likely to attract citizens to whom such qualities are important.

The bear garden atmosphere may make an entertaining spectacle for those who do not see the tragedy of it, but it does not make good law, it does not earn respect for law, nor does it serve as an example for youth. Few of the children's classes which attended the last session could have come away greatly edified by what they had seen. Therein could lie a greater condemnation of any government than might appear on the statute books.

Fruit Wastage

SAANICH TREE FRUIT GROWERS are understandably concerned over the waste resulting from their present inability to sell a large part of their crops on the local or other markets. Apples, pears and plums, they say, fall annually from the trees and rot on the ground because no suitable or adequate sales outlet has been found for them.

According to authorities, wastage is by no means limited to Saanich or the Island. It is one of the elements faced by most orchardists who seldom find customers for all they grow.

There is, however, some point in the question raised by the Saanich growers in relation to the local market. Greater Victorians, it is safe to say, eat their share of fresh fruit. If they did not, they would not purchase such a volume from outside sources.

Probably in those very purchases rests the answer to the Island growers' problem. Okanagan, California and other fruit producers can sell in this community. They sell, we suggest, because they provide standardized packs, are continually working to improve quality and appearance and they take pains to provide the varieties the public appears to want.

Perhaps adherence to the same principles would pay dividends for our suburban growers. By following a similar course the small-fruit farmer seems to have established a respectable market for himself.

ON your horses, cowboys! If you gallop off to an English mail-order house named Jeff Stores, as advertised in the Boys' Own Paper, you can buy a Cowboy and Indian and Squaw outfit. (I take it that the squaws aren't Indians?). This outfit is known as Jogonalong Jeff. It probably has little to do with Mutt and Jeff. Indeed, it could possibly have something to do with Jeff Stores... who knows? Not I, by St. Jeff. But that Jogonalong business sounds vaguely familiar, and it might stir strange memories in the big and tender bosom of ole Hopalong Cassidy himself.

The name Hopalong must be copy-right a million times over, and bring in many a pleasant and easy buck to whoever takes a cut on it. By the way, you might think it's only the bad guys in the black hats who're thinking about money. But the good guys in the white hats can't help thinking about money, either. It's not their fault, but the royalties from the toy companies pile up in huge drifts outside the ranch-house door.

WELL, if it's no infringement of Hopalong's sacred rights to go calling yourself Jogonalong, this opens endless vistas of delight. The next time I saddle up my ole Alizan hoss and come spraddlin' down Douglas Street with all my guns smokin'... I am not allowed to smoke myself, as this would have a bad effect on the kiddies, or at least on my press agent, but my guns can smoke till they're quite dizzy... where was I... oh, yes, hell-for-leather down Douglas Street, a mocking laugh on my right but friendly lips, and by blue eyes freshly creased. Well, stranger, the next time you see my familiar figure, which is easy to recognize because my chaps are made of posse-skins, you will kindly remember that you're sure-nuff a-gazin' at ole Gitalong Dave.

BACK then on the Pecos, my ole ma, bless her silver eyes and blue ha'r, she was known as Kettle-on Polly, on account of she was that fond of tea, she turned a horrible saddle-color. Her name finally became Kitalong Polly. My ole pappy, when we lived back then on the Possum Trot in Tennessee, he drank so much Valley Tan corn licker, he was known as Passalong Pete, he was. When the Vigilantes got the Strangers to string up my ole grandpaw on a cotton wood tree and stretch him a whole lot, they christened him Stringalong. Ole Stringalong Bowie, that was his name. Yup. Yip. Yipalong!

HIGH JINKS

OVER at the Cave Supper Club in Vancouver they had a great show the other day. I didn't go myself, for two reasons. There was a comedian and magician named Lou Brock, and I can never judge Brock dispassionately. But my main reason for staying away was that two dancers calling themselves Samson and Delilah were performing what they called the Dance of the Passions. And I like imagining these things rather than seeing them. In my own imaginary version, you get the complete life of Samson, plus a narrator who aptly quotes Milton's Samson Agonistes. For example, when Samson decides to do a bit of an apache dance with the young lady, the narrator's voice trembles with alarm and he says: "What pilot so expert but needs must wreck, embarked with such a steers-mate at the helm?"

IN my own ballet (for such it is), one of the most pleasing bits is where Samson kills 300 young men of the Philistines, at Ashkelon, for the not very good reason that some of their pals had persuaded Samson's wife to tell them the answer to a stupid riddle of his. This surprises the audience, and also comes as a mild shock to the young men themselves. Another very spectacular scene is where he most horribly burns 300 foxes to death by using them as living torches, to burn as many farms as possible... this because his father-in-law had played him a dirty trick. The look on the farmers' faces, many of whom didn't even know the father-in-law, is highly comical. Samson was a very passionate man. His whole life was one long dance of the passions. Some of the farmers became impassioned themselves, and danced up and down.

THE farmers got so cross (Judges, 15:6) they burnt the wife and her father, instead of burning Samson. Another big mistake, making this mystery story more mysterious. Old Hopalong Samson hops up and down, and begins to think it was the farmers who began the whole thing. Taking the jawbone of an ass (borrowed from Lou Brock, in my version) he kills a thousand men.

Well, my space is too short here to describe all our scenes, but you can imagine what some of them are like, with thousands of corpses, and people de-Milling around, and passionately dancing with rage. In one scene, five hundred farmers have apoplexy. Even Cecil B. de Mille never thought of that one. Or Griffiths either. As for the final scene, when the old blind Samson pulls the jail-house down and kills more people than ever before... well, I honestly can't think of a night-club or cabaret big enough to stage it in.

OH, I forgot to tell you. You remember how he walked off with the city gates of Gaza? In my ballet, we turn this gate-stealing into a Halloween prank. While the Philistines are bobbing for apples and going from door to door asking for peanuts and dropping firecrackers into each other's clothing, Samson flies around on a broomstick. Hardly in character? No. But a spectacle for all that.

As Our Readers See It

PROMETHEUS AND PITY

Mr. Eekman's honesty is refreshing. He believes what he writes, but in his "self-respecting" utter contempt mixed with inexpressible pity for those who "shake their fist at Heaven," he attempts the miraculous.

Pity, man's highest attribute, cannot spiritually exist along with holier-than-thou contempt, so it's not surprising that Mr. Eekman can't express it.

How about poet Shelley, who in "Prometheus Unbound" expresses horror of the Crucifixion, deeply reverences Christ, upholds prophecies and moral teachings of the Bible, yet shakes his pagan fist at Heaven with devastating power, and asserts that mankind, trying to worship God, has unwittingly worshipped the Devil. Which seems reasonable in view of fratricidal religious history.

In this poem Shelley, long ago, tells about radio, splitting the atom, and our present atom bomb threat, whereby our "kingly mountains, crowned with cloud and snow," along with humanity, are threatened to be smashed into a "lifeless mire."

Prometheus, finally liberated, frees the intellect of man, banishes hate and fear, whereby our bomb threat vanishes into limbo.

Shelley's final prophecy that "Love will spring triumphant and fold over the world its healing wings," must be for millions of years ahead, judging by the quality of our present Peace on Earth.

Query! Is Shelley, shaking his pagan fist at Heaven, a lost soul?

KOREAN REPORTS

I am surprised and disappointed that in your week-end issue you should give front page space to reports from British soldiers returning from Korea which certainly do nothing to help the world situation.

We should face facts but do you not think such statements should be checked before publication? Again and again we hear that it is the Communistic plan to drive a wedge between the democracies—particularly between Britain and the U.S.A. Such reports certainly further Communistic ends.

We hear of indoctrination taking place among the prisoners. If this is so then naturally those who have been successfully indoctrinated by Communism will be released and they will not be doves carrying olive branches.

The "tone" of the reports do not sound authentic to me. It comes from tired dispirited men and I am sorry you have given it such prominence. The U.S.A. makes many mistakes—so do we all—but we are not helping by firing bullets of propaganda for the Communists.

INDEPENDENT

They Call Them Egg-Heads Here

The Times (London)

THERE is no exact male translation of "blue-stocking," for highbrow and pedant apply to either sex. But "swot" may be accepted as a colloquial equivalent, lacking the Augustan (and earlier) associations of the original and, yet, bearing much the same stigma.

For about a century the "swot" has stood for a spindle-legged, bulging-headed figure, bespectacled and as shamefully at home in the classroom as he was miserably inept at many games. Bullied and decided by his philistine classmates, he kept a proud distinction.

He rose above his disabilities, obstinately remaining out of step and often succeeding in after life in the manner of the ugly duckling. Now the high master of Manchester Grammar School has told the National Union of Teachers that the swot, so far from being more neurotic and less athletic than other youngsters, is proved, by psychological research, to be the opposite.

So fades yet another Victorian caricature. The swot first saw the light at Sandhurst, where a Scottish professor of mathematics in the eighteen-fifties was wont to say of a problem uninteresting to the gentlemen cadets that "it makes one swot."

The rise and spread of the horrid little word were rapid. Heroes of boys' stories won the popularity of readers by mined my decision to remain out of the political arena until again in the bloom of health. Whilst laying on my bed of sickness I have had the opportunity for reflection, much of which has disturbed me. I read with great misgivings that my former team mate W. A. Scott (Independent) in the last provincial election, was invited when attending a Conservative meeting to explain what Social Credit was.

Notwithstanding Scott's great intellectual abilities, it is amazing to me that after only but a few weeks within the fold of Social Credit he speaks with authority. His explanation on that occasion with words that filled the gathering with a splendor the world had lost. The flesh that has dominated our day and generation fell away in the presence of this holy man. It was the bugle call for the awakening of the political dead in this province—all from a man who but a short time ago was a staunch Independent.

It was only by the greatest political fluke in the history of Canada that the Social Credit party became our government. This upheaval caused many rats to leave the sinking ships and join this temporarily successful party with the hope, no doubt, in mind that to the victor comes the spoils. My submission for these men is that there is no hope for them until their brains are swept of their delusions.

In the event of my health improving before the date of nomination I shall again run as an Independent.

EFFECTIVE

I see that the CCF Candidate for Saanich objects to criticism of the present public schools system.

In regard to this matter I have lately examined the handbook used to teach "Effective Living" and would be obliged if Mr. Snowsall would answer the following question:

Does he believe that the pupils' time and taxpayers' money are being wisely used in discussing such matters as demonstrating simple care of the nails, including pushing back cuticle, cleaning and filing (P. 28), the use of cosmetics, nail polish, etc. (P. 79), arranging fashion shows for boys and girls with the co-operation of local merchants (P. 103), whether the family should buy a new or used car (P. 104), how to prevent ingrown toenails (P. 107), the opinions of the class about Lonely Hearts Clubs (P. 133), whether a woman should marry a man in the hopes of reforming him (P. 134), blind dates, Dutch Treats, good-night kisses (P. 134), etc., etc. This is only a short sample list of the subjects contained in this above mentioned treatise.

All this, of course, is merely imitated from what passes for education south of the line. It will be rather amusing if Mr. Snowsall, who is always ready to denounce American influence on our economic life, proves all in favor of it when it comes to the intellectual and spiritual direction of our children through the public schools.

On and On and On and On

Ottawa Journal

IN THE U.S.—Senate, Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon completed on Saturday morning (April 25) a speech which lasted 22 hours and 26 minutes, all-time record for verbosity, garrulity, or whatever one wishes to call it.

The character of Morse's eloquence, if that word may be used loosely, may be gleaned from the fact that at 9:15 in the morning, after having talked for more than 21 hours, he said "in conclusion," but instead of concluding opened a new box of cough drops and went on for 35 more minutes.

Palmerston's famous "dusk-to-dawn" speech on Don Pacifico (the speech in which he enunciated the "Civis Romanus Sum" principle), lasted five hours.

Robert M. ("Fighting Bob") LaFollette of Wisconsin once spoke for 18 hours and 23 minutes; a senator, Allen J. Ellender, settled for 12 hours and 19 minutes; and the notorious Huey Long, called the "king of filibusters," went on for 15 hours and 35 minutes.

Longest speech in the Canadian Parliament came from David LaFortune, who, obstructing Sir Robert Borden's naval bill in the session of 1912-13, took the floor around midnight and sat down about seven o'clock in the morning (this was during the famous week-long, non-stop House sitting when MPs kept vigil by relays, and one Sir Herbert Ames once appeared with pillow and nightcap. Morley described the speeches of Joseph Cowen as "fofty coaches with one passenger." One wonders how he would describe the garrulosity of a Wayne Morse—or Morse himself.

Actually Morse is rated low in the U.S. Senate, is wayward and unpredictable. First elected as a Republican, he was one of Eisenhower's original sponsors, fought bitterly for his nomination at Chicago, then turned around and supported Stevenson. Now, orphaned of both parties, calling himself an "Independent," he has been stripped of all committee work, is a pariah. His chief characteristic, it is said, is a craving for publicity.

New Political Economy

I have been looking into political economy. It is not the political economy studied by political economists. It's what a lot of politicians hereabouts call economy. There's a great difference between the two.

Stott

In recent months, by practicing the political economy of the economical politicians I have saved several thousands of dollars and 49 cents. To me, that ain't hay.

When I was a much younger person, and had a thatch of hair, operative political economy was simple. Those were the days of Mayor David Leeming—the hungry thirties. Economy was everything. You scraped expenditure to the bone and then whittled the bone away.

The economy of that time was political because politicians believed if they were economical enough they'd be re-elected.

A little later, when money became freer, the technique was varied. Politicians returned to the slogan "Economy with Efficiency." Somebody had read it in classical Greek and researchers had traced it back through Egyptian and Chinese civilizations to the Neanderthal man. What is believed to be the original of the concept was found in the cave writing of Wug.

With REFINEMENTS

Of course there have been refinements since that day. The modern philosophy was developed by the man who sought to balance the family budget. By careful pruning he was able to reduce expenditure on the children's education, nutrition and clothes, and finally accomplished his objective when he eliminated the 30 cents a week originally set aside for his wife's beer allowance.

From that basis the revised techniques have sprung. Authorities now make a brave showing by explaining what they did not spend. By careful application of the system, I have been able to effect my remarkable personal savings.

My first big accomplishment in "economy with efficiency" was achieved merely by passing the showroom of an automobile firm. On the floor was a wonderful new model, white-walled tires, canary yellow paint job and sinfully luxurious upholstery. That, I said to myself, is for me. So I looked at the price tag and it said $3,700. I didn't buy it. I didn't need the car, really. And I saved $3,700.

Shortly after, while the boss of our house and I were out motoring, we saw the home we've been looking for. It was modern, artistic, functional without being outlandish, and it had a swimming pool. The house was for sale. The price was $49,000. By sheer willpower and determination, we passed up the bargain. It becomes easier as you subject yourself to discipline. So we saved another $49,000.

SELF DISCIPLINE

Then there was the Cape Scott land deal a friend offered to arrange for us. In its way it had promise. Our friend told us the rainfall was heavy there. If we bought enough property and acquired water rights, he figured we'd be able to collect the down-fall, package it and sell it to Saanich for irrigation. We were tempted, but that economy instinct stopped us.

Mind you, a person doesn't save several thousand dollars and 49 cents just by rejecting the big deals. He has to make his penny savings, too. We did that by re-examining the children's allowances. It seemed to us they were getting too much, so we cut them down a dime apiece—good for them to know the value of money, we said.

They figured it was pretty uncharitable until we pointed to the city, proving there isn't much room in this day and age for charitable aid grants. They understood, of course.

So we're making a go of this present day political economy. We're just like the authorities, patting ourselves on the back and counting the savings on things we didn't buy.

FROM WASHINGTON

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

Loony, But Very, Very Right

SHE was a plump, raddled, foolishly bedizened middle-aged woman, strangely hung about with jeweled chains and little bits of lace and unexpected clumps of silk flowers. She was always escorted by at least one very young, very attentive officer of the Royal Air Force; and quite often there were two or three of these escorts.

These escorts submitted and even heavily responded to a continuous flow of coquetry. Quite often, when she had taken a glass or two of champagne above her limited capacity, the coquetry would be rather appallingly transformed into girlish flirtatiousness. Altogether you would have said—and indeed the world did say—that she was more ludicrous than pathetic, and just about as nutty as a fruitcake. Certainly Lady Houston—for that was her name—was regarded as the prize bore and one of the very oddest fish among the decidedly odd clientele of the old Cavendish Hotel. These reporters saw her when they spent a little time in the Cavendish in their salad days.

It was an amusing place for unattached foreigners in London, the old Cavendish. You never knew who would turn up—whether Augustus John on a long night-out; or a couple of down-at-heel Edwardian dandies, full of tired gossip; or the last survivors of a court ball, the women glittering with diamonds, looking for a last drink after the legal closing hour.

Lady Houston had made her fortune by marrying the richest, oldest shipping magnate in Britain, who then obligingly died. The last years of Lady Houston were also the last years of Britain's imperial splendor, when the evidences of British wealth, the solidity of British self-confidence, still overwhelmed American travelers. It was the epoch of Stanley Baldwin and Neville Chamberlain, Sir John Simon and the rest.

In those days, the doctrine that a balanced national budget was more important than national security led to the most ruthless blue-pencilling of the Royal Air Force development program. Even the money to build the Spitfire prototype was thought to be an excessive outlay, in a British defense program which was then usually described as "crushing."

So the Royal Air Force turned to Lady Houston, who was a flag-waving patriot, and found young RAF officers extremely sympathetic besides. And Lady Houston paid the bill for the Spitfire prototype out of her own pocket.

It was, surely, a very curious episode. The leading men of the Royal Air Force actually used to assign Lady Houston's escorts to their somewhat unimpressive duty.

She not only took the young RAF officers out on the town in London. She would also take parties of them on summer tours round Britain on her large yacht. The yacht was festooned with electric signs which were always lighted in port in the evenings. In the summer, the lights would cry out, "BRITISH WAKE UP!" and "BRITAIN RE-ARM!" and the astonished seaside vacationers would remind one another that Lady Houston had narrowly escaped being legally clapped into an insane asylum.

But the fact remains, Lady Houston and nobody else paid for the Spitfire prototype. If there had been no Spitfire prototype, there would have been no Spitfire Squadrons. The Messerschmitts would have won the Battle of Britain. If the RAF had been driven from the British air, Britain must have gone under. So who seems loony now, crazy Lady Houston, or the respectable Baldwins, Chamberlains and Simons, whose balanced budgets evoked such universal contemporary admiration.

3-D Headaches Are Liberal

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Why does 3-D give some people headaches? Which system will win out—3-D or wide-screen? Is 3-D possible without glasses?

Movie goers and film workers themselves want to learn the answers to these and other questions concerning new dimensional pictures. I sought some background on these issues from Cliff Stine, veteran cameraman.

Q. Why do some people get headaches from watching 3-D?

A. There can be many reasons. The two films in the projector may not be lined up correctly. There may have been improper adjustment by the cameraman or the projectionist. Or the viewer may not be able to focus his eyes at the point where the two lenses are converging.

Q. Are people who wear glasses normally more prone to headaches from 3-D?

A. Not if their glasses correct their eyes to normal vision.

Q. Can 3-D be perfected so it won't cause headaches?

A. Yes, we can eventually reach that stage—if the cameraman and projectionist adhere to the proper formulas.

Q. Which system do you think will triumph?

A. I think most pictures will be in wide-screen. It gives more scope to the screen and is excellent for outdoor scenes. I believe the novelty of 3-D will wear off in a year or so. Its main asset is that it adds somewhat to reality.

Q. What is the main problem of filming 3-D?

A. To keep the action focussed at the line of convergence—that is, the line where the two camera lenses simulating your eyes converge. If that line is not maintained, eyestrain results. Also, if the actor gestures over the line, his hand will appear to be in the audience.

Father, Four Sons Drowned in Mishap

EDMONTON, Alta. (BUP).—A father and his four sons were drowned when their car went out of control and hurtled into the Smoky River at Watino, 40 miles south of Peace River, the RCMP reported today.

Police said the accident occurred Monday night when William Cummings, 53, of Watino, was driving toward the ferry across the river. He lost control of the car and his brakes failed to work.

Two men nearby rescued Mrs. Cummings and 15-month-old David J. Cummings, but attempts to revive the baby failed.

Mrs. Cummings is recovering from her ordeal and severe shock at losing her family in the McEwen hospital 25 miles east of Watino.

The victims besides the father were William James, nine; Charles Edgar, eight; Donald George, seven, and the baby son.

Cummings, who is survived by three brothers, two in Vancouver and one in Toronto, was an employee of the Northern Alberta Railways.

MAJOR OIL DEAL

CALGARY, Alta. (BUP).—The Anglo-American Exploration Company has purchased Gas and Oil Products Ltd. of Calgary in one of the major petroleum industry transactions of recent years, it was announced Tuesday night.

A joint statement by S. C. Nickle, Sr., head of Anglo-American, and William Jeffrey, president of Gas and Oil Products, did not give the purchase price but it was reported the transaction involved "several million dollars."

The deal was believed to make Anglo-American the major independent oil company in Canada.

Gas and Oil Products, founded by the late A. H. Mayland, operates a huge petroleum refinery in southern Alberta's oil-rich Turner Valley and distributes its products throughout the prairies.

JUDGMENT RESERVED

EDMONTON (CP)—Mr. Justice Hugh John Macdonald reserved judgment Tuesday in a civil action for damages of $26,000 heard in Supreme Court.

Plaintiffs are Judith Raven and Mrs. Louise Raven, while defendants are Harold Henderson and James Giffen.

The claim was filed as a result of a motor accident Aug. 3, 1951, on the Edmonton-Calgary highway near Didsbury, about 45 miles north of Calgary. Howard Albert Raven suffered fatal injuries when the car in which he was a passenger collided with a vehicle allegedly driven by Giffen.

HOUSING, DIETS BLAMED

EDMONTON (CP)—Dr. M. Matas of Edmonton said Tuesday that the high incidence of tuberculosis among Indians is due to poor homes and improper diets.

Dr. Matas of Charles Camell Indian hospital here, told a meeting of the Friends of the Indians Society that the hospital, which is the centre of Indian health services in Alberta, spends $1,250,000 annually to treat patients from the Montana border to the shores of the Arctic. However, tuberculosis among the Indians would never be eradicated until the economic level of the Indians had been raised.

PEARSON TO COME WEST

LETHBRIDGE (CP)—External Affairs Minister Pearson will make his first Lethbridge appearance May 29.

CCFCandidate Cameron Maintains B.C. Premier Deliberately Lying

Premier Bennett's reported tales of non-co-operation by opposition parties in the Legislature are "deliberate lies," Victoria CCF candidate Colin Cameron said at a View Royal meeting Tuesday night.

Mr. Cameron, speaking in support of Esquimalt candidate Frank Mitchell, lambasted the Social Credit premier for claiming the opposition didn't co-operate when actually it was himself who showed lack of co-operation.

"Social Credit is precisely the same as past governments, with some fantastic additions," Mr. Cameron said.

Turning to CCF policies, the speaker said the free enterprise of the capitalist system was abandoned in wartime for a planned, controlled economy of production that would fit only into the war effort.

He defined capitalism as the process which allows large resources to fall into few hands.

Candidate Mitchell, reviewing the Rolston Formula on school financing, said the plan would have increased Esquimalt's taxes.

CCF policy, he said, is to raise revenue from natural resources and gradually remove the tax from land.

Mr. Mitchell charged that the Socialists brought the Rolston Formula before the Legislature for the express purpose of getting themselves defeated.

At a Monday night Social Credit meeting in Esquimalt, Provincial Secretary Wesley Black had to fight it out verbally with hecklers.

He was speaking in support of Esquimalt Social candidate Herbert Bruch.

A questioner asked why the government tried to push through Bill 79 (Rolston Formula) when it knew defeat was the outcome.

"Who are you campaigning for?" asked Mr. Black. "I asked for fair questions. That was a political speech you made there."

The provincial secretary said the government anticipated opposition to the bill, but didn't think the opposition would defeat the government.

When the famous "Red speech" was brought up by a questioner, Mr. Black said the government repudiated Mr. Reid's statements.

"But he had every right to say what he wished," he said, "to speak will always be de-

"We didn't agree, but his right fended."

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford
Former Governor to Her Majesty

The intimate biography of Queen Elizabeth, written by her good friend and former governess Marion Crawford, appears exclusively in the Victoria Daily Times in 25 chapters. Out of her 17 years of close association with the royal family, "Crawford" has previously published "The Little Princess" and "Mother and Queen: The Story of Queen Mary."

III.

There was a series of majestic drives through the wide streets. Parisian crowds cheered in a most un-Republican way. Princess Elizabeth's wardrobe of dresses sent a ripple of excitement through the fashion capital.

Even M. Dior, that leader among dress designers, could find no fault. "She is magnificent," he told one of the royal party. "I never knew from pictures that she could be so lovely or wear her clothes with such distinction."

At home the fashion writers grew lyrical. At Nottingham Cottage I examined photographs with which the papers were full, and remembered what an effort it used to be even to persuade the princess to change into a new hat.

Someone, I knew, must have been at work, for the princess was always conservative about her dress, and content to wear whatever was laid out for her.

I did not have to look far for the author of this new chic. Prince Philip was beside her in

Princess Displayed Great Courage

As she leaned forward, the crowds saw her sway, as if she was going to fall. Prince Philip was near at hand. As he saw her falter, he took a quick pace forward and caught her elbow to steady her. The incident was over in a second or two, but it was one that none who saw it will ever forget.

"It was as if there was no one else there but the two of them," one of my friends told me later. "She needed him, and he was there."

And then Prince Philip helped her back to her place while the bands played the national anthem.

Those who stood near them could see how anxiously he watched in case she should sway again. But she did not. It must have needed great courage to stand to rigid attention, feeling as she did.

The strain, in fact, did tell. On the way back through streets lined with people cheering her with undiminished vigor, the emotion became too much for the princess.

All through the journey the crowds could plainly see the tears streaming from her eyes. She made no attempt to hide them; they were a gracious acknowledgment of the tribute the Parisians paid her.

And also, perhaps, relief after the strain she had imposed upon herself.

Sea Spells Danger to Elizabeth

It was while at Eastbourne that Queen Elizabeth first came to know the sea. She had seen it before—when she went down

Man Who Died Here Left Large Estate

An estate worth $467,381 was left by John Bruce Kay, a Toronto man who maintained temporary residence at 2540 Cotswold Road, Victoria, and who died here April 24, 1952, at age 95.

His will came before Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris in B.C. Supreme Court Chambers Tuesday for resealing of probate. His British Columbia estate was worth $33,661.56.

Bulk of the estate was left to his widow and family in the east.

ter should find it strange and alarming.

"It's the noise," she explained to me, "and the way it keeps rolling about and jumping at you."

Later, when we were making a cruise in that old-fashioned vessel, the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, which rolled and pitched in every direction, Princess Elizabeth was still land-lubber enough to wish all the time that she was ashore.

With the Duke of Edinburgh, years later, she paid an official visit to the Channel Islands. Memories of the Nazi occupation were still vivid there and the coming of the princess eagerly awaited.

On the morning she sailed in HMS Anson I looked at the skies, and my heart grieved for her. Ashore, the weather was bad enough, but it was much worse in the Channel. I knew that the voyage in a rough sea would be a nightmare to her.

My fears proved true. She was white with seasickness and almost prostrate when the ship dropped anchor off Sark.

Between the ship and the shore was a strip of angry sea, which had to be crossed in one of the ship's boats.

"Are you sure you're fit to go ashore?" asked her husband. She could not speak, but looked up at him and nodded.

The princess' advisers doubted that she was fit to land. When she realized what they were saying she roused herself.

"Of course I am going ashore," she said. "I won't disappoint all those people."

GOVERNMENT ACCUSED OF WASTE IN TOFINO HOSPITAL DECISION

B.C.'s Social Credit government has been accused of "wasteful administration" by the Ucluelet hospital committee on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

The charge arose out of Health and Welfare Minister Eric Martin's decision to proceed with construction of a new hospital at Tofino instead of investigating the possibility of using the 26-bed former RCAF hospital at Ucluelet.

The committee claimed Mr. Martin ignored its pleas even though it was shown renovation of the RCAF institution would have cost only $30,000 compared to $217,000 for the new unit at Tofino.

The committee claimed its brief presented to Mr. Martin was "completely ignored."

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

Someone was remarking in the press box at the ball lot the other night that what baseball lacks today is a good, old-fashioned feud.

The hell-leather tactics of the past have given way to a more noble band of athletes who seem to take the attitude: "Ah, he's a nice guy; I'll be nice to him and he'll be nice to me. And maybe he'll introduce me to that blonde I saw him with last night."

Of course, it all depends on which side of the fence you sit. Some may like the approach:

"Yeh, we lost, but I got two for three to-day. What are you doing after the game?"

But it does seem that baseball has lost something in the past few years. The real desire to win at all costs has vanished from the scene. Television may be to blame for declining attendances among other factors. But it appears that baseball, set up as a hard game, has gotten away from the script. The competitive urge is of secondary interest.

As a suitable antidote for the ills which have befallen the sport, there's nothing quite like a show of antagonism for one's opponent.

Take the recent ruckus at St. Louis between the Yankees and the Browns. Gil McDougald bowled into the famed Yankee hater Clint Courtney on a wild dash for the plate from second base on an infield out. He knocked Courtney heels over breakfast, loosening Courtney's grip on the ball to score.

Then came Courtney to bat for the Browns.

He slashed a drive off the fence and lit off for second. He slid into Phil Rizzuto, spikes flashing. That touched off the imbrolio as the Yanks rushed to Rizzuto's aid, and used Courtney as a punching bag. Reports of Rizzuto's injuries vary. In New York he was said to have suffered two deep wounds. In St. Louis the damage was reported as superficial.

The Baseline Belongs to the Runner

Both McDougald and Courtney were, according to baseball law, within their rights. The baseline belongs to the base runner. It's up to the fielder to protect himself. The base runner, within reason, is entitled to try to get to that base any way he pleases short of slugging the guardian of the post. It was all right for the Yanks when McDougald spilled Courtney and it was okay with Courtney, too. Catchers don't expect any quarter at home plate and they don't give any. Ask Victoria's Milt Martin. He'll drop no flowers in the path of base runner.

But when Courtney asked the same privilege on the bases from the Yanks, they acted in disgraceful vogue and mobbed the Brownie catcher. That's taking things too far, and that's where the line should be drawn. There's a marked difference between aggressiveness and rowdiness.

But still, baseball played up to the hilt is far more exciting than a friendly game of rounders with players discussing last night's date as they pass on the base line. Call it rustic if you like, once a requisite, but now an asset. But a hustling ball club is more interesting to watch than a colorless crew of guys waiting for next week's pay cheques and figuring out their batting averages in respect to next year's contract.

Baseball a Business, Not a Job

Or as manager Cee Garriott of the Tyees has often said, "With me, baseball is a business. You only get out of it what you put into it. That's why there's no place on my club for a guy who won't hustle."

Anyone care to meet Martin at the plate? ... Hmmmm! He personifies what is known as "a ballplayer's ballplayer."

Minors Take Air Feud To Senate Committee

WASHINGTON (UP)—A Senate commerce subcommittee launched hearings today to determine whether the major baseball leagues are driving the minors out of business with radio and television broadcasts of their games.

Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick and George M. Trautman, boss of the minor leagues, were called to testify on a bill to authorize rules protecting the lesser circuits from major league broadcasts in their home territory.

Chairman Edwin C. Johnson, sponsor of the measure, also called Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International League, and Joseph E. Cronin, vice-president of the Boston Red Sox, to testify on his bill. Johnson is president of the class A Western League.

It was baseball's first appearance in Congress since a house judiciary subcommittee took a hard look at monopolistic features of the national game in 1950.

Johnson's bill does not involve the controversial "reserve" clause binding players to their owners which figured prominently in the house investigation. It would simply set up rules to forbid invasions of one team's "home territory" by broadcasts or telecasts of another team's games.

Johnson said the bill is "vital" to the existence of the minor leagues. He said he hopes Congress can pass it at the present session to prevent further damage to minor leagues.

Prior to 1949 the major leagues had a rule which prohibited broadcasts by one team in the "home territory" of another.

The rule was repealed. Johnson said that amounted to promoting a "cruel and ruthless monopoly" which he claims was "forced upon organized baseball by our own justice department."

Johnson said the justice department has declined to participate in the present hearings. He said the department has advised that the new administration's anti-trust division is still studying the case.

The department, Johnson said, also explained that it would be "unappropriate" to testify on the baseball issue while its case against the National Football League, based on a somewhat similar regulation, is still pending in a Philadelphia district court.

Red Continues With Roster Experiments

Program sales should keep zooming at lacrosse games, thanks to Shamrock coach Red McMillan, who is continuing to shuffle his team line-up.

In an effort to give every player signed by the Irish this year a chance to strut his stuff early in the season, McMillan will make four changes for Friday's game with PNE Indians at Vancouver Forum. Sham-rock's usual midweek home game is not scheduled tonight due to the B.C. Products Fair being held in Memorial Arena.

Most important of the roster switches will be the installation of Bob Aitken in goal against Clary Jenion's Indians, who have won one game and lost one.

Aitken, a senior B veteran up from Roy Woolsey's Jokers, will replace burly Jim Hetherington. Aitken was signed as spare goal.

One change will be made in the defensive pairings and two in the attacking units.

Rugged Len Scott will be rested for Friday's game and veteran Norm Coates, who failed to see action in the first two games of the season, will be in strip for the first time.

Coates will work with impressive rookie Jackie Thompson on one unit, while rookie Bill Bamford will partner Tommy Druce on the other duo.

MONAGHAN RETURNS
Bob Monaghan, who missed the pre-season practices as he was at university, will see his first action, the shift forward being fitted into an attacking line with Duff McCaghey and Harry Irwin. He replaces Jack Reid.

Sarge Sammartino of Vernon will also strip for the first time and will be working with Arnie Ferguson and Jackie Northup. All Gill has been dropped temporarily.

The potent Larry Booth-Whitey Severson-Archie Brown line will not be changed.

National Golf Day Aids Junior Program

One of the most unique events in the life of an average golfer, National Golf Day, has been scheduled May 23.

All golfers on this day will succeed, with handicap, in bettering the score made by Julius Boros, present U.S. open champion, will receive a medal bearing "I beat Julius Boros, National Golf Day, May 23, 1953."

Local golfers are allowed to compete on their home courses and Boros will play his round at Pittsburgh's Oakmont Country Club, scene of the 1953 U.S. open championship.

The day is co-sponsored by the Royal Canadian Golf Association and the Canadian Professional Golfers' Association in conjunction with a well-known U.S. magazine and proceeds go toward charitable organizations.

Entry fees received in Canada will be turned over to the Red Cross and a similar sum was distributed to the respective golf bodies.

Designed for fun, charity and the furtherance of golf, this event invites the participation of every golfer in Canada.

Irish Booters Leave For Canadian Tour

LIVERPOOL, Eng. (CP)—Northern Ireland's touring soccer team left Tuesday night for a seven-week exhibition series in Canada and the United States.

The 17 footballers, led by such players as Denny Blanchflower of Aston Villa and Jackie Scott of Manchester United, open their tour May 15 at New York against another British touring team, Liverpool. The other games will be played in Canada.

This is the first trans-Atlantic tour by an international side from Northern Ireland, though Belfast Celtic made a North American visit before quitting the soccer scene after a domestic issue two years ago.

GOOD SEASON

The Irish eleven has had a good season, having held England and Scotland to a draw but losing to Wales.

Missing from the team are centre-half Billy Dickinson (Chelsea), outside-right Billy Bingham (Sunderland), inside-right Mollroy (Burnley), centre-forward Billy Simpson (Rangers) and outside-left Charlie Tribby (Glasgow Celtic). All are on tour with their English or Scottish teams.

Northern Ireland, which draws its players from a population only slightly exceeding 1,000,000, long was the Cinderella of British soccer. Year after year it finished last in the international standing. But the appointment as team manager of Peter Doherty, a great Irish player, produced a transformation.

The Irish team sailed aboard the liner Empress of Scotland. As the players went aboard they were observed carefully carrying little notebooks—containing invitations from Ulster emigrants to Canada who have flooded Belfast with letters since the Irish tour was made known.

Officials said the players have lists of more than 100 ex-countrymen to look up in Canada. The tourists play in Victoria June 2.

FLY-TOSSERS TAKE NOTE: FLY TACKLE AT COWICHAN

Monday was the day of days for Cowichan River trout fishermen—the day when the annual black ant hatch broke.

The hatch, which every year provides at least a week of fabulous activity for fly fishermen, came at a time when there were few anglers on the river; but those who were lucky enough to be present at the time were well rewarded.

Cowichan River guides expect the hatch will provide hot fishing for another week, at least.

Although trout appear on the small side this year, they are numerous, with the greatest numbers being taken from the headwaters of Lake Cowichan, down through the village and two miles downstream.

'Little Mo' Receives Police Protection

ROME (AP)—While Italian riot police watched nearby to restrain enthusiasm, U.S. tennis queen Maureen Connolly gave 2,000 fans an eight-minute exhibition of net finesse Tuesday.

It took "Little Mo" just that long to dispose of her first opponent in the Italian international tennis championships. She beat Italy's Maria Laura Veronesi, 6-1, 6-0, to give a solid indication why she's seeded No. 1 in the tournament. Later, Miss Connolly said apologetically she isn't at the top of her game.

Police were sprinkled among the spectators and outside the arena.

Police were stationed two jeeps full of specialists in riot-handling. An inspector explained police didn't want a repetition of Gussie Moran's appearance here, when fans swarmed onto the courts to get a closer view of the California beauty.

Without doubt the most popular in a long line of managers, Cec Garriott won the hearts of every baseball fan in Victoria last year when he personally led the Tyees to the WIL pennant, picking up the home-run title while he was at it. Garriott, 36 years old, comes from Gardena, California, and was a star with Los Angeles Angels of the PCL for many years. He received a tryout with the Chicago Cubs during the war but his career was interrupted at that time by a hitch with the armed forces.

Married and the father of a boy and two girls, C's hobbies are fishing and boats. He is a car salesman in the off-season.

Garriott was the best of seven Canadian senior hockey final 3-1, need victory in only one more game over Penticton Vs to give Kitchener its first senior title since 1918.

LONDON (Reuters)—Middlesex and Northamptonshire ended their match Tuesday in an exact tie—only the 14th tie in first-class cricket since the first world war.

Close-of-play scores: Somerset 179 and 130. Worcestershire 261 for eight declared and nine for two. Gloucestershire 297 and 250 for four. Gloucestershire won by 274 runs. Surrey 363 for four declared. Cambridge University 68 and 228. Surrey won by an innings and 65 runs. Hampshire 184 and 263 for nine declared. Essex 132 and 132. Hampshire won by 172 runs. Kent 228 and 127. Warwickshire 186 and 118. Kent won by 91 runs. Middlesex 94 and 212. Northamptonshire 182 and 226. Match tied.

BRONX, N.Y. (AP)—Junior Gilliam, flashy Dodger rookie, is rated Brooklyn's best leadoff man since Eddie Stanky in 1947.

Manager Chuck Dressen is high on the talented Montreal grad, who has been on base in every one of the Brooks' 16 games with 18 hits and 18 walks.

"I said down in Miami that he can help us if he can hit .260," said Dressen after Sunday's sixth straight Brooklyn victory.

"He's hitting .310 now and I think he'll be even better. Most important, he gets on base. I don't care how he does it as long as he gets there."

In 16 games Junior has been up 58 times. He has one double and one triple among his 18 hits. Opposing pitchers, still probing for a weak spot, have struck him out only four times. It was the same last year at Montreal—100 walks, 18 strikeouts. So far he's up there leading the league in runs scored and stolen bases.

On the fielding side, Gilliam has been making plays to his right that Jackie Robinson never would have made last year, let alone this year.

Dressen is well pleased with the infield shift of Robinson to third in order to make room for Gilliam.

Major league magnates have been bemoaning the drop in attendance this season, and they've good reason. Whether due to television, poor weather or a combination of both, the big league ball fan just isn't showing up as often as he used to.

An Associated Press survey disclosed today that attendance at major league parks is 24 per cent under last season's total in a comparable number of home dates for each club.

Paid admissions for 1953, including Tuesday night's games, totalled 1,373,984. Last year it was 1,802,729. That's a drop of 428,745.

Pilseners Take Intercity Lead

VANCOUVER (CP)—New Westminster Salmonac came up with their best game of the Intercity Lacrosse League season Tuesday night but found it still wasn't good enough as Vancouver Pilseners won 13-11.

Salmonac coach Art Pruden said he intended to protest the win because of an alleged error by penalty timekeeper Jim McClean which Pruden said cost his club at least one goal.

Salmonacs, with only five returnees from last year's second-place finishers, scored seven goals in the fourth period to make the game close.

Goalie Harry Preston was the outstanding player on the floor, stopping 40 of 53 shots fired by Pilseners.

Vancouver took a 3-1 lead in the first period but only got an even break on six goals in the second quarter as Preston saved 12 of the 15 shots fired at him. Salmonacs were blanked in the third quarter and Pilseners upped their margin to 8-4 on goals by Jim Swanson and Ed Hamson.

New Westminster's belated comeback was accomplished by veteran Bert Houston and rookies Spunk Oddy and Kid Matthews. They scored two goals apiece in the final quarter.

The win boosted Vancouver into first place, one point ahead of Victoria Shamrocks. In three games, Pilseners have won twice and tied once.

NEW YORK (AP)—Persons close to the explosive New York Giants situation will not be greatly surprised at anything that might happen soon, up to and including a trade which would send captain-shortstop Alvin Dark to another National League club.

The feeling between Dark and his manager, Leo Durocher, is mutual. The stumbling Polo Grounders plainly need new pitching blood, and they could get a top hand from St. Louis Cardinals, possibly Gerald Staley, plus another player or two, if it were decided that Dark had outlived his usefulness under Coogan's bluff.

Times Newsboy 40 Years Ago, Now English Farmer, Returns

By TOM MERRIMAN
Gentle, 244-pound farmer, Bert Bridges of Sittingbourne, Kent, who used to sell the Victoria Daily Times from the old building on Fort Street 40 years ago, is paying a return visit to the city where he spent five happy years of his boyhood.

He likes it. "Victoria is the finest place in the world outside of England," he says.

He has paid a visit to George Jay School, which he used to attend, the golf courses where

Corporal Eastick Awarded Trophy As Cadet of Year

Cpl. Leslie Eastick, 15, of 634 Pine, has been honored as the "best cadet of the year" in the Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) Cadet Corps. This was announced Tuesday by Capt. Dudley Stephens, commander of the corps, who reported Cpl. Eastick will be presented with the S. J. MacDonald Trophy, emblematic of the honor, at the annual inspection of the unit Thursday night at 8 at Bay Street Armoury.

Mrs. MacDonald, wife of the late donor of the trophy, will make the presentation.

Capt. A. McMillan, area cadet officer from Vancouver, will accompany Lieut. Col. Walter Mosedal, OC of the Scots' reserve battalion, on the inspection of the young kilted soldiers. Parade commander will be Capt. Stephens.

Pioneer Chinese Dead at Age 99

A 99-year-old Chinese pioneer who came to Victoria in a sailing ship in 1883 died here Tuesday.

He was Jim Kee, 1337 Grant Street. He was born in Canton and came to Canada as a young man. He was a farmer.

Surviving are his wife, Leong Shee, at home, sons Henry and Charlie of Vancouver; daughters Mrs. Lee Kepent of Vancouver, Mrs. Victor Lang of Victoria, and Mrs. Timothy Jang of Duncan.

Injured Child Dutiful Pupil

TRENTON, Ont. (CP)—Six-year-old Bobby Downs didn't want to miss school. Part of his left foot was crushed by a train Monday, but he was determined to hobble home and have lunch so he could get back to school on time. An operation saved part of the injured limb.

he used to caddy and other scenes he remembers. He confused his cousin, George Jarvis, by recalling streets and places George never knew and giving him directions for driving there.

He was interested in seeing over the Victoria Press plant. "If you planted geraniums and shrubs in barrels you would have a wonderful roof garden here which would be in use by the staff all day," he said, as he surveyed the city from the roof of the building on a typical Victoria day of sunshine.

IN FLOOD AREA

Mr. Bridges' 125-acre farm is in the midst of the flood area. Thirty of his 125 acres, on which he grows early vegetables for the Convent Garden market, were under water, doing $5,000 damage. Seventy tons of potatoes, acres of cabbage, 200 chickens and 25 pigs were among the losses.

Adjoining farms were flooded and water covered the whole area from Sittingbourne to Margate like an inland sea.

He took his losses with a smile and made his planned trip to Canada with Mrs. Bridges despite them.

"I've received a thousand gold (pounds) from the government in compensation since I left England," he said. "There may be more later."

He spent a month in United States before coming to Victoria. "Let's not talk about the Yanks," he said in a manner indicating he was not impressed during his visit.

FUN-LOVING PEOPLE

"The old spirit of England is as good as ever despite rationing and other troubles," he said. "The English are a fun-loving people, with football, dog racing and motorcycle racing drawing enormous crowds."

"The ease-up on rationing still leaves headaches," he said. "Although there's no limit on eggs, thousands of people won't get them because, with government subsidizing at an end and the eggs on sale on the free market, the price is beyond their reach."

He could not understand why, with Canada overstocked with salmon, so little of it arrived in England. He emphasized the English are not looking for charity. "She took a terrific loss in the last two wars, and not all for England's advantage only. She suffered more than her share and now only asks consideration while she re-establishes herself," he said.

U.S. Contracts to Help Falconbridge

TORONTO (CP)—T. Lindsley, president of Falconbridge Nickel Mines Ltd., told the company's annual meeting Tuesday the prime purpose of the recent contracts with the United States government is to remedy the lack of adequate development of the company's properties and to modernize many of the treatment facilities.

APPOINTMENT of Ralph W. Purves of Victoria to be electrical manager of B.C. Electric has been announced by president A. E. Grauer. Currently the company's financial officer on Vancouver Island, Mr. Purves will move to Victoria in July. A director of both Victoria Symphony Society and Victoria Arts Centre, Mr. Purves also is past president of Victoria Chapter, National Office Management Association.

YORK OIL UP 13

York Oil soared 13 points on Vancouver Stock Exchange this forenoon on receipt of encouraging field reports. Forty thousand shares were traded. Opening at 96, six higher than last week's low mark, York advanced quickly to 49 at noon, equal to its previous high mark of this year.

Fargo and McDougall Segur also were favored. Fargo advanced 15 to 320 and McDougall Segur moved forward from 26 cents to 31.

Profit-taking caused National Exploration to drop to 66 in mid-afternoon after opening at 72, but by noon it had recovered to 68. Beaverbridge was marked at 1.51, unchanged.

New York Steady

NEW YORK (AP)—Minor price changes today marked the course of the stock market. A large number of stocks traded unchanged.

Canadian stocks were mixed. International Nickel and McIntyre added 1/4, Canadian Pacific lost 1/4.

On the American stock exchange Royal Oil eased 1/4.

MONTREAL (CP)—A moderate stock market advance was unhindered during afternoon trading. Turnover was light.

Senior oils continued weak but other sections moved fractionally higher.

Western oils were a little lower. Home eased 25 cents and Federated Petroleum 20.

Trend to Weakness

TORONTO (CP)—Prices were mixed but tending weaker toward the close of light stock market trading today.

Industrials held firm with a gain of more than half a point on the exchange index. Base metals were firm by a small margin. Western oils and golds weakened.

Dividends Ceased Until Oil Reserve Substantially Up

CALGARY (BUP)—R. A. Brown of Calgary, chairman of Home Oil Company, said today no further dividends will be paid until the firm's petroleum reserves, already estimated at nearly 25,000,000 barrels.

Brown, who is also president of Federated Petroleum of Calgary, said the two companies plan to raise a substantial amount of new capital from Canadian mining interests to finance "an aggressive oil exploration program in Alberta this year."

"Home Oil has been paying out about $1,000,000 a year in dividends, and the directors decided that it would be the greatest benefit to shareholders if this was diverted to exploration to take advantage of the opportunities now existing."

"The company will pay no further dividend until reserves have been substantially increased, but we did not set a figure. Our reserves at Feb. 1 this year were estimated at 24,680,800 barrels."

Home Oil has been paying 25 cents per share dividend twice a year to its 8,500 shareholders.

HELP TO HOME BUILDERS Mortgage Money Supply Increased

By E. McLEAN, Times Business Editor

A technical adjustment in a little-known arrangement, ordered Tuesday by Resources Minister R. H. Winters, will make mortgage money more readily available to Victoria city home builders.

The change will permit Central Mortgage & Housing, Crown-owned corporation, to apply its "agency agreement" in cities of 55,000 population, instead of 50,000 as heretofore. Saskatchewan, where private mortgage money is ultra scarce, and Saint John, N.B., will benefit along with Victoria city.

Under the agency agreement CMH may advance to a private lending institution all the money involved in a NHA home-building loan instead of the usual 75 per cent. If it desires, the company may "buy into the loan" within two years.

Purpose is manifold. Mortgage loans thus are made possible in centres where the private companies are not represented or where the number of loans, actual and potential, is not sufficient to warrant the expense of supervising and servicing the mortgaged home-building projects. And the buy-in feature enables private companies to extend their field of operations as home-building is stimulated in the community.

Extension of the agency agreement principle to cities between 50,001 and 55,000 population was decided upon by Resources Minister Winters following representations by a Saskatoon city delegation.

There has been a steadily decreasing availability of private mortgage money in Saskatoon and the situation there, from a home builder's point of view, became acute.

While it is difficult for even those in the business to forecast the possible effects of the change, all seem agreed Victoria city home-builders should be benefited—but it will be some weeks before the change is actually effected here.

Retail Sales and Construction Up

B.C.'s retail sales in February were 3.8 per cent higher than a year ago. Trade and Industry Minister Ralph Chetwynd reports. Biggest gain was in motor vehicles, up 17.3 per cent.

Department store sales were up 1.9 per cent for February, but subsequent weekly figures paint an even better picture. Sales were 9.6 per cent higher in the week ended April 4 than in the same week of 1952. Increase in the week ended April 11 was 3.3 per cent over 1952.

Building permits issued in B.C. during March totalled $16,530,000, far above any previous single month. More than one-quarter of March's total was for residential structures.

Contracts awarded during March totalled $18,130,000 compared with $6,927,000 in March, 1952.

GRAIN WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP)—Trade was dull for most of today's session on the Winnipeg Grain exchange with prices moving narrowly.

Shipping orders and U.S. buying of deferred months appeared in sale. Further export business and processing demand featured the trade. Buy trade was mostly local with some U.S. selling.

CRITIC PRAISES REGINA PLAYERS

Adjudicator's Task Explained
By Puzzled Judge of Festival

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

A play which the adjudicator found more intellectual than dramatic, but the production of which drew considerable praise, was John Steinbeck's "Burning Bright," presented by Regina Little Theatre Society, Tuesday night at the Royal Theatre.

Second of eight plays to be seen by Dominion Drama Festival audiences, it has the week's smallest cast, taking only four people to tell its story of man's need to perpetuate himself through his children.

In his preliminary remarks at the conclusion of the evening, Pierre Lefevre commented on the scope and function of his criticisms, which he said were necessary for the purpose of arriving at awards, but did not mean he was unappreciative of the work he saw.

It should not be necessary for Mr. Lefevre, whose comments have so warm and friendly a tone, and the true ring of sincerity, to apologize for anything he says; nor should it be necessary to step warily where the cream of Canada's amateur theatrical talent is concerned.

VALUE APPRECIATED
Mr. Lefevre's adjudications are too valuable to the serious theatre students and others of the audience to be in any way curtailed.

Of the evening's production, he said: "This play puzzles me. To what extent is it a good play? The idea is clever, but is the tremendously difficult staging device justified?"

He was referring to the three separate environments in each of three acts in which the four characters played out their drama, thus illustrating the universality of the theme.

"The author was saying something so simple, one wondered that he had so much to say."

MP Wants Check Made on CBC's Foreign Service

OTTAWA (CP) — Gordon Graydon, PC-Peel, said Tuesday in the Commons that there should be a much closer liaison between the external affairs department and the CBC on the make-up of the corporation's international service.

External affairs should have a close supervision over make-up of broadcasts to other countries that might touch on Canadian foreign policy, he said.

It had been a little shocking, Mr. Graydon said, to learn that one broadcast to Brazil had cost some $24,000.

No Election Date Until After Coronation

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian voters must wait until after the Coronation to learn the date of the federal election.

Prime Minister St. Laurent made this clear in the Commons Tuesday, but he did not write off the widely-accepted speculation that the date will be Monday, August 10 or Monday, August 17.

His comments came after Donald Fleming (PC-Toronto Eglinton) asked him, amid considerable uproar in Liberal ranks, of the correctness of newspaper reports Monday that the August date had been selected. "I have purposely refrained from arriving at even a tentative decision about the next general election before the Coronation," he said.

Mr. Fleming argued that an August election—it would be the first August election since 1867—would disfranchise "tens of thousands" because so many would be away from home or busy with farm activities. "One has to weigh the advantages and disadvantages," said the prime minister.

Schools Ban Sweet Drink

TORONTO (BUP) — The Toronto board of education has decided to ban sale of chocolate milk in school cafeterias beginning next September.

B.C. Fisherman Not Guilty on Murder Charge

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—Fisherman James Albert Dudoward was acquitted Tuesday of a charge of murdering Wilfred White, his uncle, who died after a bloody fight in which a broken beer bottle, a wrench and a hammer were used as weapons.

The 26-year-old Dudoward, who lives in Port Simpson, B.C., was acquitted by an Asize Court jury which deliberated 50 minutes.

White died in hospital September 5, the day of the fight on Dudoward's fishing vessel.

Dudoward pleaded self-defense. Testimony was that White had attacked Dudoward with a beer bottle after throwing a wrench, a hammer and a screwdriver.

CCF Member Would Favor U.K. Market

OTTAWA (CP)—Percy Wright, CCF member of Parliament for Melfort, suggests Canada cut tariffs and lower dumping duties on British imports as part of a program to make Canada less dependent on the "whims and caprices" of the United States market.

Mr. Wright, in a speech Tuesday night over the CBC's free time, political program, "The Nation's Business," criticized the government for allegedly placing Canada in a position of dependence on the American market for her exports and said this policy "has already proved disastrous in a number of instances."

Clarie Gillis (CCF—Cape Breton South) joined Mr. Wright on the broadcast. He criticized the government's housing policy, saying Canada needs about 700,000 new homes but Canadians are not able to get homes at prices they can afford.

supply will grow by this amount in the next two years under the two-part program.

A generating unit for 62,000 horsepower will be added at the company's Bridge River plant, 130 miles north of Vancouver.

This, the BCE said, will make it the most powerful single source of energy in the four Western provinces — 248,000 horsepower.

Some 25 miles east of the Bridge River plant, where Seton Creek joins the Fraser River, the company will build a power station, completely automatic in operation and controlled from Bridge River by a supervisor carrier system.

At the Seton project the water will spin a 58,500-horsepower generator.

The development at Bridge River proper will get under way within eight weeks and will cost $3,000,000, the company said, with the unit scheduled to start delivering power by mid-summer next year.

Mr. Grauer said work will start "in the early autumn" on the Seton station, which will cost more than $8,000,000 and go into service in July or August, 1955.

"The work will create many hundreds of jobs for B.C. citizens during the time," he said. "About $15,000,000 of the total sum will be spent for wages, supplies, equipment and services right here in British Columbia."

City Girl Sold Papers to Fly, Aims for Fame

A Victoria girl who four years ago won nation-wide distinction by becoming Canada's youngest woman commercial pilot at 19, is out to make even bigger headlines.

Mrs. Phyllis Noble, the former Phyllis Drysdale, now living in Guelph, Ont., intends to enter the Fifth All-Woman International Air Race scheduled for June 10 between Welland, Ont., and New Smyrna Beach, Florida.

Winner of the race will receive a cash prize of $600. The race is not a speed test. Participants will be judged for navigational ability and adherence to rules.

Mrs. Noble is currently looking for someone who will lend her a plane for the contest or someone who will sponsor her entry. If she cannot borrow a plane from a private source she will use a Fleet Canuck from the London Aero Club.

Born in this city, she displayed a particularly keen interest in flying from the time she was a small girl. At age 13 she began construction of a glider.

She obtained her private pilot's license when only 16. She delivered papers and worked in a store after school in order to pay for her flying lessons.

She won her commercial pilot's license three years later, and in August, 1950, qualified as a flying instructor.

A graduate of Victoria High School, she served for a time as part-time instructor at Vancouver, then taught flying on a full-time basis at Haney, Langley and Edmonton.

She married and went east to live last September. She is working in the office of a manufacturing company there.

Salvation Army Asks Victorians for Financial Help

The Salvation Army never says "no" to people in need.

Now, in turn they ask you seek your financial aid to carry on their work. For the current drive for funds in Victoria the quota has been set at $30,000 and Army officers and lay helpers believe that generous Victorians will see that the sum is raised.

From Army files, a typical case illustrates the Army's rescue work.

A blind couple in Victoria with a daughter of seven, faced a desperate situation. The father was about to go into hospital and the pension of $40 a month had gone mostly for his medicine. There was literally nothing to eat in the house, all three in the family were hungry and until the Salvation Army worker was called in late at night the case was hopeless.

Food was provided immediately, the father's admittance to hospital expedited and the mother and daughter cared for until the father recovers.

Appeals in such cases come daily to the Army's Citadel on Pandora and it is to help them in bringing quick relief that the Salvation Army is now asking the help of more fortunate citizens.

FRATERNITY SUSPENDED

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Everyone has a mother, at one time or another, so it is nothing less than appropriate that Mother should have something, too.

Once a year, Mother has a Day, by courtesy of the manufacturers and distributors of everything from Watson's Widgets to the Ever-Ready Plumber's Helper.

Mother's Day this year is on Sunday, and I fully realize many constituents are somewhat confused by the multitude of eloquent suggestions put forward by enterprising merchandisers, all of whom suggest something "different" and "practical" for dear old ma.

Therefore (and at no extra charge) I herewith list a handful of Mother's Day gift suggestions, guaranteed to be practical, and possibly different.

If these fail to bring an appreciative tear to Mother's eye, it is time the Old Girl was turned out to pasture.

A household budget book printed on rubber, so Mother can stretch her allowance to take care of all of Father's extravagances.

A pressure cooker which will prepare four-minute eggs in one minute when Father is late for work.

A correspondence course in higher electronics, so Mother can learn to operate all the modern, labor-saving electrical devices which Father may some day get around to buying for her.

A pair of leather reinforced canvas work gloves, so Mother won't spoil her manicure when shoveling coal into the furnace.

Four hundred feet of prefabricated picket fence, which Mother can knock down when she feels fenced in.

Six hundred pounds of flour in 100-pound sacks. (After all, the family needs bread, and Mother could do with a summer dress.)

An alarm clock equipped with (a) a standard bell and (b) a silent electrical impulse. To operate attach (b) to Mother's ankle, so she will be awakened 30 minutes before (a) brings Father to life, by which time he will find his breakfast prepared, his clothes laid out, and his column written.

A silencer for the vacuum cleaner, so Mother won't disturb Father's nap while she's cleaning house.

If you follow these suggestions, you can't miss—and Mother will really have herself a day.

(NB. Any constituents who are under the impression My Favorite Wife had anything to do with the above, are so right.)

PFP (Punch for Premier) Party Report: The dog Punch says: "As the Old Man has chosen to talk about Mothers today, I wish to mention MY mother."

"My Mother is in charge of a large and valuable herd of sheep on Salt Spring Island."

"No other candidate can make that statement."

"At least, I haven't heard one make it."

PARK PEACOCK VANDAL VICTIM

A peacock was killed and shorn of its tail feathers some time between dusk Tuesday and dawn Wednesday, in Beacon Hill Park.

Parks administrator W. H. Warren reported this morning an unknown vandal had climbed over the fence in the deer pen, chopped off the peacock's head, and then clipped about three feet from its tail feathers with a pair of shears.

"Peacock feathers are used for fly fishing," Mr. Warren pointed out.

Police have been notified.

Police Ready To Trap Cars Ignoring Siren

Victoria police are going to "get tough" with motorists who fail to obey the traffic laws when they hear sirens of emergency vehicles.

"We are going to lay a trap," said Chief of Police John Blackstock today.

"I hate to do it, but we are running into too many motorists who refuse to stop and pull over as much as possible when they hear a siren."

In future, the chief said, another car will follow emergency vehicles—police, fire and ambulances—"and ticket everyone we catch failing to give the right-of-way."

Police commissioner Gordon H. Carter, at the last session of the police board, reported that it had come to his attention the way the average motorist "just ignores" emergency sirens.

He recommended that the chief take necessary action to bring these drivers before the courts.

"It's no joke," Chief Blackstock said. "Motorists who do not co-operate not only endanger themselves but place people who need our help as quickly as possible in danger."

Three Spots Set For Strike Ballot

Members of Saanich Municipal Employees' Association, who will participate in a government-supervised strike vote, will cast their ballots at three locations.

Voting Thursday will be at the Gorge Road sewer project at 4:30 p.m. On Friday voting will be at the Municipal Hall between 12 and 1 p.m., and at the Municipal Yard at 4:30.

The 180 members of the association who sought a general wage increase from the municipal council decided on a strike vote following their rejection of a conciliation board majority recommendation.

Parents Applaud Youthful Actors

More than 400 proud parents packed the auditorium of Oaklands School Tuesday night to applaud the annual concert of Grades I to VI pupils.

Principal H. R. Dawson welcomed the parents.

The youthful actors and actresses on stage comprised half of the school's 710 grade students. They will repeat their performance at 8 tonight.

Thursday and Friday evenings another concert will be given by the remainder of the school students.

Binnacle Out of Bounds

Ship's binnacle from wardroom of HMCS Naden has been removed—possibly temporary—home in officers' mess at Work Point Barracks. Gnr. G. J. Inglehart, mess steward, asks unidentified officer "how come," is told binnacle was "found." (Times photo by Halkett.)

'HOW'S HER HEAD, SOLDIER?'

Navy Can't Navigate With Binnacle Adrift

By MONTE ROBERTS

The classified advertisements make fascinating reading.

For instance, in the "Lost and Found" column of today's Times you will find this ad:

"FOUND — Object bearing plate inscribed Kelvin Bottomley and Baird Ltd., pattern 172, binnacle number 1856. Owner may claim same by presenting proof of ownership and pay for this ad. G.8081, Local 260."

If you happen to be an officer in Her Majesty's Royal Canadian Navy, Pacific Command, you will have a special interest in this advertisement.

The binnacle referred to went missing from the wardroom of HMCS Naden overnight.

Fortunately, the binnacle—a four-foot high case in which is installed a ship's compass—is in good hands.

It just "happened" to be "found" by members of the officers' mess at Work Point Barracks.

This morning its brass was tenderly polished by Gnr. G. J. Inglehart, mess steward, while the officers who found it looked on approvingly.

These officers realize they are doing a tremendous favor for their brothers in the navy by taking such good care of the Naden binnacle, but they wish to remain modestly anonymous.

It is no doubt co-incidental that the guard at Work Point Barracks will be doubled this evening.

The officers' mess trusts the navy reads the classified columns.

Japanese Freighter Waits for Grain At Elevator Dock

Ss. Ariki Maru docked at Ogden Point grain elevator early today to take a full cargo of barley for Japan.

The Japanese freighter, second to take a full cargo of barley here, likely will be in port for a week or 10 days, while barley shipments arrive by CNR boxcar ferry from Port Mann. She is bound for Japan.

Two lumber carriers are due in at the Point this evening for Thursday loading. Ss. Hidalgo will lift 500,000 feet for UK, and Ss. Brimanger will take 340,000 feet for South Africa.

Expected Thursday to commence work Friday morning is the Greek freighter Ss. Hardalampas Hadjipateras.

Magistrate's Job For Court Clerk

In the absence of Magistrate Henry C. Hall, who is attending a magistrates' convention in Vancouver, Justice of the Peace role in city police court today.

William Ostler was in a dual role as court stenographer and court clerk today. The regular court stenographer, Mr. Ostler, took over the duties of magistrate, called accused, read charges, imposed one fine, remanded two accused who pleaded not guilty to driving charges, and did his customary job as well.

Alan S. Ryhorchuk, 19, of 1007 Collinson, pleaded guilty to a charge of violating a license restriction by driving a car not covered by insurance and was fined $25.

GARDEN CITY CLAIM MERITED

Visitors Praise Victoria Gems

If anyone has any doubts about Victoria's claim of being the "Garden City of the Pacific Northwest," he should listen to what some U.S. visitors have to say about the private gardens here.

The visitors, mostly from Washington and Oregon, are attending the Spring Garden Festival which opened today. Some 40 private gardens are opened to the general public until Saturday for the festival.

"The gardens are the loveliest to be seen on the coast," said Wallace Bonesteels of Seattle. "They are worth while attractions and should be better known."

Thorburn Reid, a business executive of a large firm in Portland, Ore., and Mrs. Reid, said they are "amazed at the landscaping and designs of some of the gardens."

"What impresses us is the way some people have been able to make gardens along this rocky coast," they said. "Their vision amazes us."

Several visitors wondered how Victorians could find the spare time to look after their gardens.

The gardens also won the praises of a Scottish mathematician, Bryce McLeod, who is visiting Victoria. "You would be hard put to find a more beautiful garden city than Victoria in Scotland," he said.

These were only a few of the praises showered on Victoria's gardens by over 200 persons who took part in the first conducted tour of 10 private gar-

Civil Defense Test Involves Huge Area

Fighting Services Of Northwest Join 2-Nation Scheme

An enormous area of the Pacific Northwest will be involved in the biggest civil defense exercise yet attempted, June 20.

The whole of British Columbia and the state of Washington will participate.

According to Seattle authorities, army, navy and air force units of both countries will deal with an incident of "enemy attack." So will all civil defense organizations.

Major-Gen. C. R. S. Stein, B.C. director of civil defense, disclosed today that B.C. has been asked to join in the international exercise. Details have not been finalized, but it is understood that the event will not be a test, but a training drill.

He added that American CD officials met here for discussions of the scheme recently.

RED ALERT

News stories from Seattle have described exercises held there last month which were participated in by the general public. Sirens sounded a red alert and an imaginary guided missile burst over the city.

People took shelter or carried out duties of civil defense. If the forthcoming B.C. exercise becomes the large-scale operation envisioned by the U.S. planners, the drill will halt normal activities here.

For a brief period between the red alert and the "all clear," residents will huddle in basements, business sections will be deserted.

As the "all clear" sounds, fire-fighters, police auxiliaries and rescue teams will go into action.

The area classed as "affected" by the recent "attack" on Seattle comprised some 350 city blocks. There were 3,000 estimated casualties in an area where only 30 block wardens of the Seattle CD were stationed.

Missing Boatman Sought by Police

Whereabouts of an unidentified young man and the 12-foot boat, with an outboard engine, he rented from Oak Bay Boat-house Tuesday morning is a mystery.

Police have been called in to aid a search.

"I rented the boat to the young fellow at 10 a.m. Tuesday, but he hasn't returned yet," reported Duke Scott, proprietor of the boat-house, at 12:30 p.m. today.

When last seen the boat was heading towards Cadboro Bay. Mr. Scott did not take down the name of his client.

Victorians Among Vancouver Grads

Ten Victoria and Vancouver Island girls will be among 120 student nurses to be graduated May 12 by Vancouver General Hospital School of Nursing.

They are Eva Lorraine Howard Price and Phyllis Gertrude Wakelyn, Victoria; Rosemary Joan Smyth and Shellagh Mary Cooper, Qualicum; Joan Mary Milloy, Anne cum Beach; Anita Gordon Boyd; Lake Cowichan; Margaret Isabel Reid, Merville; Mary Freeman Stewart, Port Alberni, and Julie Mae Winstanley, Courtenay.

Discharge of B.C. Civil Servant Seen As Possible Provincial Election Issue

The case of Mrs. Muriel Scace, discharged earlier in the year from her education department post by the Social Credit government, today threatened to erupt again and possibly become an election issue.

An official of the B.C. Government Employees' Association said the group's grievance committee will fight Mrs. Scace's dismissal and soon will take the issue to provincial cabinet level.

GUINEA PIG'S MISSING, GREAT SNAKE'S ALIVE

A snake got loose at B.C. Home Products Fair Tuesday and a fat guinea pig is missing.

Mrs. Betty Ash, chief steward of the rabbit show, discovered the big non-poisonous snake which had escaped from a side show exhibit.

But she didn't find what she was looking for, a guinea pig which was missing from the livestock show.

The king snake is sleek, stuffed and sleepy today and Mrs. Ash is suspicious.

Cattle Show Closing Stresses Space Needs

City Fair Wants Room to Breathe, And So Do Residents in Vicinity

The pressing need for enlarged fair grounds was again demonstrated at the B.C. Products Fair Tuesday.

The cattle show was closed by city health officials following complaints from a nearby resident.

Products Fair director Lorraine Kirk told The Times today the complainant later withdrew charges that barnyard atmosphere of the cattle show was bothersome, however, and a reprieve was granted.

"It bears out the need for proper grounds, though," said Mr. Kirk. "I am completely in accord with Mr. Dukowski's suggestions for enlarged premises."

Memorial Arena manager Joe Dukowski on Monday criticized lack of adequate facilities for the mammoth fair.

He wants to see neighboring homes moved, more fair buildings erected and the area suitably landscaped.

Meanwhile district residents turned out in even greater numbers for the exhibition Tuesday. Almost 8,500 persons visited the displays at the arena and the curling rink. Second day crowds last year totalled 3,600.

A bottleneck created by narrow midway passage leading between the two main buildings was greatly relieved Tuesday by rearrangement of some of the carnival equipment.

Shriners Get Horse Sense

Words of wisdom straight from the horse's mouth were sought this morning by Joe Foster (left), chairman of the Gizeh Temple Shrine's committee on housing for the giant ceremonials here June 5, 6 and 7. Joe has already solved the headache of finding accommodation for 4,000 visiting Shriners; now he has to locate living quarters for 16 horses and eight mules. He appealed to Lady Saharah (centre), chate-laine of Twin Oak Farms, for help, and the gracious lady obliged with a list of her friends who can put up the visiting animals. Ted Porter (right), chairman of the publicity committee, explained to Lady Saharah that the horses—all Palominos—are members of a famous Shrine Mounted Patrol. The mules are the stars of a Jackass Patrol from Wyoming. Horses and mules will be featured in the huge Shrine parade through city streets on Saturday, June 6. (Times photo by Strickland.)

Canadian Authors' Association will meet Friday at 8 p.m. at the Arts Centre, Moss Street, where Albert Sullivan will speak on "Prose and Poetry," and Mrs. Ethel McFarlane will talk on a recent trip to Hollywood.

Suffering head injuries when struck by a car Tuesday night, Darrell H. Zaruk, six, of 338 Michigan, was reported in good condition today at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Police said the boy ran out into the street in front of a parked vehicle and was hit by a car driven by Sidney Thor-moe, 416 John.

Salvation Army's annual campaign for funds which opened Monday has realized $5,400 to date.

Aim of the drive is $30,000 in Greater Victoria and officials report "encouraging" response. Several people have come into the drive's headquarters at 757 Pandora to make donations.

Mom and pop racoon were looking for a safe home. Naturally enough they chose a perch in a tree close by the B.C. Game office on Elliott Street.

That was about 8 a.m. Tuesday.

At 4:35 p.m. the game office called the riot squad and Constables George Buckle and Bert Wilson of the city police shot and killed the settlers.

LONDON (CP)—Purser-steward Joe Devarennes of Trans-Canada Air Lines handed the Lord Mayor's Fund $102 and £35 contributed by fellow crew members on the Montreal-London run for flood relief. Devarennes said the money was contributed "because we were grieved at what we saw as we flew over England."

Victoria's official thermometer climbed to 74 degrees late Tuesday morning—as predicted by the weatherman—to mark the hottest day to date in 1953.

"It will be cooler for a couple of days, though," he said. "Cool air is flowing in from the Pacific, especially at upper levels. The unstable conditions might produce thunderstorms tonight over the lower mainland and Washington."

Victoria skies will be cloudy tonight and Thursday, he said, with occasional showers. Temperatures will be between 50 and 62 degrees, and winds will be light.

Totem Poles Attract Festival Visitors

Totem poles erected in the rock garden of H. G. T. Perry, King George Terrace, proved an additional attraction for over 200 visitors who today toured some of the private gardens opened for Victoria's Spring Garden Festival. Mr. and Mrs. Thorburn Reid of Portland, Ore., are examining one old totem carved by a Prince George Indian. The U.S. visitors were amazed at the landscaping of some of rock gardens they visited. The festival, to run until Saturday, features some 40 private gardens.

Thar's Gold in Them There Knick-Knack Shops for Sure

By PENNY SAVER

Whoops! I discovered an intriguing importers' shop today and simply couldn't believe my eyes when I saw the hundreds of little knick-knacks and gift items displayed on its well-supplied shelves.

Want to buy something "different" for the bride-to-be? These fine grass linen bridge sets, hand-embroidered in dainty cross-stitch Chinese figures, would be dear to the heart of any new home maker. Set of four serviettes and cloth, $4.95.

Imported from Peking are realistic frosted glass fruits, ideal for centrepieces. Luscious-looking grapes, plums, pears, apples and pomegranates are 39c per bunch. Mmmmmmm! Good enough to eat!

You'll want one, too, when you discover how many uses there are for these circular and oval-shaped wicker bread baskets (which, I might add, sell for a paltry 25 pennies). As containers for hot rolls or the above-mentioned glass fruits, they are perfect. Here's a suggestion that will give you something quite out of the ordinary. Take a straight scrap of material from that new cotton frock you've been sewing, attach one edge to the basket, turn the other edge over, hem it, slip a cord through, and presto!—a drawstring bag to match your dress!

For the summer months you can make a similar bag with this handy wicker basket and terry cloth material. Just the size for carrying a bathing suit and towel to the beach, you'll use it again and again.

What? You've got more than a quarter to spend on a hand-bag? Well, just for you there are some made of strung bamboo in bright Oriental designs, various shapes and sizes, selling for $4.95. Oh, so chic with that new spring outfit! Little girls can have one "just like mommy's" for $2.25.

Yet another handbag suggestion is the ever-popular miniature "fishing basket." A favorite with the teen-agers, it sells for 98c.

Pure brocade silk ascots in many bright hues, for wear on sweaters or your favorite suit, are just $2.95.

Dyed bamboo place mats, standard size, are $1.29 for set of eight. What could be more suitable for a kitchen or miscellaneous shower?

It won't be long before vacation time is upon us, and for those week-end outings a wicker basket is a "must." Obtainable in several sizes ranging from the individual-pack size to the large family size, they are priced from $2.25 to $4.95.

Teenage Boy Troubled By Temper Tantrums

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Temper outbursts are to be expected in a small child. But when a person reaches high school age a temper outburst is a source of embarrassment to him. That is the problem of the boy who writes:

(Q)—"I am a freshman in high school and have always been popular with my classmates. Recently they have been calling me 'Sizzling' because I fly off the handle so easily and say or do things I am later very sorry for. Why do I have these temper outbursts? I don't remember ever having them when I was a kid. And what can I do to control my temper?"

(A)—Adolescents frequently go through a period of temper tantrums quite reminiscent of early childhood days. The difference is that the teenager is embarrassed about his outbursts, while the young child accepts them as a matter of course.

The cause of temper outbursts in adolescence is the glandular upheaval taking place at that time. As the body changes from that of a child to that of an adult, there are marked changes in the glands. Until this condition straightens out, which it does when the body has reached its mature size and development between the ages of 15 and 18, temper tantrums are almost inevitable.

You can do a lot to control your temper if you wish. First of all, don't take things so seriously. What difference does it make if things go wrong occasionally or if people say things you don't like? These will not affect the fate of the nation, nor should they affect you.

Try to develop a sense of humor, so you can see the funny side of things that annoy you now. There is a comical side to everything if you will only look for it.

Finally, check yourself when you feel a temper outburst coming over you. Walk out of the room, count to 20, start doing something else to distract your attention, or merely keep still and do nothing. When you get yourself under control, you can keep yourself from flying off the handle.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write in care of this newspaper.

Maytime Tea Assists OES Cancer Dressing Station

In her opening address at the sixth annual Maytime tea, sponsored by five local chapters of Order of Eastern Star in K. of P. Hall Tuesday, Miss Moya Bailey, grand marshal of Grand Chapter of British Columbia OES, pointed out that cancer dressing stations are organized throughout British Columbia as the main project of the provincial chapter. In describing the success of the venture, Miss Bailey said that "relief enjoyed by patients who receive dressings from these stations was out of all proportion to the sustained efforts of members."

Mrs. Doris Watson, past master, Oak Bay chapter, and general convener of the dressing station in Victoria, gave an outline of the work being carried on.

She estimated that 40 patients received dressings during the past year and said that the number of patients is steadily increasing. There is an average attendance of 38 working members and non-members at the workrooms each Tuesday, at which time dressings are distributed.

Little Miss Andrea Cottingham, granddaughter of Mrs. Mollie McPhee, presented bouquets to Miss Bailey and Mrs. Watson, who also received corsages of pink carnations.

The well-attended affair was convoked by Mrs. Hannah Hogg with Mrs. Jessie Earl, co-convener. Matrons from five Victoria chapters who welcomed guests as they arrived were Mrs. Agnes Westmoreland, Queen City Chapter; Mrs. Mabel Gray, Victoria No. 17; Mrs. Mabel Sargent, Esquimalt; Mrs. Mary Lovelace, Ruth Chapter; and Mrs. Anne George, Oak Bay.

Presiding at the tea table, which was covered with a white cloth centred with varied colored roses in a silver bowl flanked by small silver vases filled with red roses, were Mesdames M. Llewellyn, G. Williams, Claire Prior, G. Sedger and Miss Agnes Wylie.

Serviteurs were Mesdames Margaret Fair, K. Graham,

WHY GROW OLD?

Protein, Minerals Vitamins Delay Aging—Help Vitality

Yesterday I reminded you that there is positive proof that the food we eat has a tremendous effect on our vitality, on delaying physical deterioration as well as on the length of time we can hope to live.

The foods which are now emphasized as especially essential for those from middle age on are protein, minerals and vitamins. Today I want to give you a few of the most reliable sources for each group.

First let us consider the proteins. The best sources are meat, milk, eggs and cheese. Fish and fowl are also classed in the protein group.

Many older folks are anemic. To avoid this eat plenty of lean meat for iron as well as for protein. Liver is best. Whole wheat products and the green leafy vegetables are also helpful sources.

For calcium intake milk is the most reliable source, and according to opinion, adults should have a quart a day. The legumes are also a source, as are green vegetables.

Vitamins A, B and C have been found to have a most happy effect in delaying the aging processes. A is widely distributed, especially in the green and yellow vegetables. Milk and egg yolk are also rich in it. The citrus fruits are the best source of vitamin C. Tomato juice has half as much vitamin C as orange juice. Cabbage is also high in vitamin C content. Vitamin B's are found in whole grain foods and in meats. Brewers yeast and wheat germ are two of the richest sources.

You can readily see a pattern in good eating developing from the data given above; namely, generous amounts of lean meat, citrus fruits, eggs, milk, whole wheat products and the green and yellow vegetables. This forms the outline.

Go light on starches and fats and sugar. Keep your weight down.

This is the prescription for today's Fountain of Youth.

TODAY'S RECIPE

GLAZED FRUIT PIE

One and one-half cups cooked prunes, 1 baked 9-inch pastry shell, 2 bananas, ½ cup granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2½ cup cooking liquid from prunes, 1/3 cup orange juice, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Pit and chop prunes, and place in baked pastry shell. Slice bananas over prunes. Blend sugar, cornstarch and salt thoroughly, and mix with part of prune liquid. Combine remaining prune liquid and orange juice, and heat. Stir in cornstarch mixture and cook until clear and thickened. Remove from heat and stir in orange rind, lemon juice and butter. Pour over the prunes and bananas. Cool thoroughly before cutting. Makes 1 (9-inch) pie.

Salads, Light Desserts a Good Rule for Warm Days in Spring

It's spring again—time to do over old clothes, buy new ones and look the old world in the face with a gay new outlook.

Health experts say, too, that a change in diet is every bit as good as a new hat.

Salads rather than heavy meat and potato combinations, jelly instead of starchy puddings—these are the dishes to put one in trim for sunny days ahead.

Gold and white salad is recommended by the poultry products institute. It's light but full of food value.

Ingredients: Two tablespoons unflavored gelatine, one-third cup cold water, three hard-boiled eggs; one tablespoon French dressing, 1½ cups salad dressing or mayonnaise, one-third cup finely-diced celery, one-third cup diced green pepper or sweet pickle, one teaspoon onion juice optional, one-quarter cup chopped stuffed olives or canned pimiento.

Soak gelatine in water five minutes. Dissolve over hot water, allow to cool until syrupy. Separate yolks and whites of eggs. Press yolks through a sieve and mix slightly with French dressing. Oil mould and arrange design of sliced olives, strips of green pepper or pimiento on the bottom. Cover with yolk mixture. Mix gelatine with mayonnaise, pour half the mixture over egg yolks, combine the rest with finely chopped egg whites and remaining ingredients and spread on top. Chill.

Hosiery Hints

The Canadian Association of Consumers is distributing a booklet to tell women a few facts about nylon hosiery and how to get better wear for their money.

"Canadian full-fashioned hosiery manufacturers—there are 39 of them—are often unjustly blamed when women claim that stockings today just don't wear as long as they did a few years ago," says the booklet. "The reason for this is simple—you are wearing on the average a higher proportion of sheerer hosiery than ever before."

The booklet says a stocking wardrobe—including hose for every occasion—is not as expensive as it might seem. It recommends service weights for service use.

Preparing for Holiday Sport Event

If Smoky isn't the best-groomed horse in the holiday gymkhana to be staged by the Victoria Riding and Hunt Club Monday, May 18, it won't be the fault of the quintette of enthusiastic young equestrians shown above. The five youngsters, who will be participating

Season Wound Up By Sooke Players

SOOKE.—An audience of 200 attended the last major showing of the season by Sooke Players, Saturday night, when two one-act plays were presented on behalf of the Women's Auxiliary to Holy Trinity Anglican Church.

Leading parts in "Legend," a drama, were taken by Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. J. R. Horgan and Walter Conder.

Hugh Piggott turned in a fine performance in the farce, "Man of Arts." Len Stewart displayed a natural talent for comedy as the piano tuner, and the audience enjoyed Louise Hooper's portrayal of the "dumb blonde."

In announcing the close of the season Douglas Forrester, group president, said that all but two of the 10 one-act plays presented during the season had been staged to raise funds for various organizations.

Mayor Confirms Statistics On Fall in City's Tax Take

Mayor Claude Harrison today agreed with statistics compiled by a publishing company showing that the total tax take of Victoria and other B.C. municipalities is steadily decreasing.

The figures contained in a letter to the City Council from the Mitchell Press Ltd., publishers of the B.C. Municipal Year Book, showed that senior governments, provincial and federal, are taking the lion's share of tax revenue.

"In the past 20 years, the position of the municipalities has slipped from 39 per cent of the total tax take in all levels of government to 12 per cent," the letter states. "In the same period the federal government has increased its tax take seven times, the provincial government three times; but the municipalities only get half as much again as they did."

The letter also points out that municipalities have also been subjected to expenditures not of their own making, in welfare and education fields "without access to revenue sources adequate to their needs."

"That's quite right," said the mayor. "We are not getting our share of taxes."

CANADA BUYS SALMON

Before the war, Commonwealth countries were the biggest buyers of B.C. canned salmon, taking about half the annual pack. Foreseeing the loss of much of this Commonwealth trade, the industry turned to the Canadian market as early as 1948.

By an aggressive promotion campaign it has pushed domestic sales from a pre-war average of 550,000 cases to as high as 900,000 cases, thus partially replacing former Commonwealth outlets. But a large volume of exports is still essential if the industry is to survive.

A PAIN IN THE NECK!

Don't you get a little weary of appliance advertising?? Don't you think it should be more realistic, & don't you think it's about time advertisers quit "talking down" to the average housewife?? We think we'd sell a lot more appliances if we pictured Monday morning as it really is, rather than showing a cute little wife, with a grin all over her pan, who is just SO HAPPY about doing Monday's wash, she can hardly contain herself. Actually... nothing could be further from the truth. Washday, with all its automatic gadgets, is still... ONE VERY LARGE PAIN IN THE NECK. For us to keep on inferring it is a day of joy-joy, is to infer that YOU have an IQ of about 15.

In every Ad the lady is beautifully groomed... possibly has just had a manicure too. Now... LET'S FACE FACTS. She is probably quite a mess of a Monday morning. Compare her with the dame who smiles out at you from the big splash ads. Now pick yourself up off the floor.

We think it's about time we got nearer the truth, and that we should tell you the story directly & simply, something like a reporter does, so here goes for the who, the what, the why & the when, & the cutting out of most of the syrup, because we KNOW you, & all women generally... HAVE A LITTLE SENSE OF THEIR OWN, TOO.

THIS THOR WASHER won't make you look like Marilyn Monroe, but it IS equipped with what they call an "Electro-Rinse" pump, which means in simple lingo that you can rinse smack in your sink, & don't need any tubs. The best part maybe is the price, the lowest we think there is... only $159.00. We hope you are impressed.

Professionals Cut Amateur Theatre Returns

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

A panel discussion on the relation of amateur and professional theatre in Canada opened the Theatre Conference portion of the Dominion Drama Festival Tuesday at the Empress Hotel.

Speakers, who included Mrs. L. T. White, Ottawa Little Theatre; Mrs. Gerald Rushon, Vancouver Little Theatre; Thor Arngren of Vancouver's professional Totem Theatre; Ian Thorne, director, actor, lecturer and playwright; Robert Tabor of the professional York Company, and H. E. Stubbings of the Victoria Theatre Guild, appeared to be generally concerned, from the amateur standpoint, with the loss of audiences to the newly developing professional field.

They also expressed their pleasure, however, over opportunities being provided talented thespians to earn a living at home.

The conference was officially opened by Sir Robert Holland and introductory remarks were given by Miss Dorothy Somerset, chairman of the Theatre Conference, and Miss Constance Ellis, the Victoria chairman, Presiding over the panel, was Herbert Whittaker, Toronto dramatic critic.

LUNCH WITH KIWANIS

Theatre Conference luncheon was held in conjunction with the Kiwanis Club in the crystal ballroom. Guest speaker, introduced by Donald Cromie, Vancouver, president of the 1953 Dominion Drama Festival, was Henry Schnitzler of the Department of Theatre Arts, University of California.

Foresters' Ball Yield To Build Parade Float

Arrangements have been made for a Coronation dance at Crystal Garden May 22 by Court Victoria No. 1004, Independent Order of Foresters.

Proceeds will aid in preparation of a float for the Coronation parade. Next business meeting will be held May 18 and next executive June 8 at the home of Mrs. W. H. Butler, 3815 Kremlin.

Steeped in theatre from early childhood - his father was the famous Austrian playwright, Arthur Schnitzler - the speaker discussed "World Theatre Mid-Century Appraisal" and could have gripped the attention of his large audience as long as he cared to talk.

So comprehensive a survey of theatre as it exists today, its problems, failures and achievements, is almost impossible to condense. Mimeographed copies of the address may be made available in the near future, through the office of Community Drama in the Douglas Building.

The non-professional theatre is in a position to render a public service by striving to keep alive the highest function of the art, said Mr. Schnitzler.

CRUSHED BY TANKS

'Good Wife' Kills Self, 4 Tots After Fight With Mother-in-Law

TORONTO (BUP) — A penciled note signed with kisses disclosed Tuesday that a "model mother" killed herself and her four children because she was angry with her mother-in-law and worried over debts.

"Now you'll have a chance to get out of debt," Mrs. Adele Holmes wrote to her husband before she opened all the jets of their new gas stove and lay down to die.

William Holmes found her body and those of the children—Nancy, seven; Irene, six; Linda, four and Kenneth, three—when he came home from work early Tuesday. Police said it was a clear case of mass murder and suicide.

The family had moved into a new house only two weeks ago and had a new refrigerator, television set and deep freeze. Inspector William Mace said you too much to spoil your life. Sell out and go away. You'll have a chance now to get out of debt. It was wonderful to have you love me. God forgive me, Bill. Your mom struck me and I struck her back. They'll be glad to be rid of me."

The 42-year-old father, near collapse with grief, said he did not know why she did it. "We were so happy. She was such a good wife and a model mother," he said.

The mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Holmes, refused to say whether she and the younger woman had quarrelled.

The note beside Mrs. Holmes' body was addressed to "Bill." It said: "Mom said you'd be better off without me. I love you too much to spoil your life. Sell out and go away. You'll have a chance now to get out of debt. It was wonderful to have you love me. God forgive me, Bill. Your mom struck me and I struck her back. They'll be glad to be rid of me."

The 42-year-old father, near collapse with grief, said he did not know why she did it. "We were so happy. She was such a good wife and a model mother," he said.

The mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Holmes, refused to say whether she and the younger woman had quarrelled.

TV ON COAST BY NEXT FALL MP PROMISED

Coronation Films May Be Wrong Type

OTTAWA (CP) — A. D. Duntun, chairman of the CBC board of governors, has assured Tom Goode (Lib., Burnaby-Richmond) that the Vancouver television station will start operating next fall.

He said in the broadcasting committee Tuesday that a site for the transmitter has been picked since he last appeared before the committee two weeks ago.

The CBC has chosen a site on Seymour mountain, across Burrard Inlet from Vancouver, and work would go ahead as quickly as possible. At his previous appearance, Mr. Duntun told the committee no decision had been reached on two possible sites—Seymour mountain and Burnaby, a municipality between Vancouver and New Westminster.

Mr. Goode expressed dissatisfaction with the CBC's plans for broadcasting the Coronation to the lower British Columbia mainland.

TECHNICAL TROUBLE

He was told by Ernie Bushnell, assistant general manager and television co-ordinator, that some technical difficulties remain to be solved in the CBC's arrangement to have a television station at Bellingham, Wash., broadcast films of the Coronation supplied by the CBC.

Mr. Bushnell said the Bellingham station which can be seen in sections of lower B.C. has not yet informed the CBC whether its cameras are able to use the type of film the CBC will supply.

Mr. Goode said that in view of this technical difficulty he doubts very much that the Coronation telecast will take place.

Mr. Bushnell said the Bellingham station has agreed to carry the complete seven-hour film which will be available the day following the Coronation. The film was being supplied free.

R. R. Knight, CCF-Saskatoon, questioned Mr. Duntun at length on the CBC's labor relations. He said a letter, written by CBC officials to employees on the eve of a vote on union certification, seemed designed to frighten employees to vote against the union.

Mr. Duntun replied that generally the management-personnel relations in the CBC have been good in the past and remain so now. The letter was an isolated incident picked out by the Canadian Congress of Labor to draw to the attention of the committee.

TO RETIRE

SASKATOON (CP) — Hugh Carson, soccer star in both Britain and Canada, will retire as physical education instructor for the University of Saskatchewan at the end of the academic year.

Senate Votes Tideland Oil To States; Lawsuits Coming

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Senate Tuesday ended its longest debate in 15 years by passing the Eisenhower-backed bill to establish state ownership of the oil riches lying under coastal waters. The vote was 56 to 35.

But senators who fought the bill through 27 days of acrimonious debate in what majority leader Robert Taft (Rep., Ohio) called "an honest-to-God filibuster" said the battle would be carried on in the courts and into the election campaign of 1954.

Before approving the bitterly-fought legislation, the Senate rejected a dozen last-ditch amendments aimed at canceling or limiting what the opposition called a gigantic "giveaway" of federal property worth billions.

The bill now goes to House of Representatives, which passed its own version of the legislation five weeks ago. A conference committee may have to be appointed later to iron out differences in the measures.

Administration leaders commended the vote as "just and equitable" recognition of 150-year-old claims the states have made to valuable submerged lands lying off their coastlines.

EGYPTIANS ON VERGE OF SHEDDING MONARCHY

CAIRO (UP)—The 5,000-year-old kingdom of Egypt appeared today to be on the verge of shedding its ancient monarchy in favor of a parliamentary republic.

A 50-man committee appointed by Premier Mohammed Naguib to rewrite the 1923 constitution agreed unanimously Tuesday night to abolish the throne, subject to popular approval in a referendum.

Five sub-committees were appointed to work out details of various sections of the proposed Republican constitution.

Naguib already has given implied approval to the Republican plan. When he junked the old constitution in December, he declared he would give Egypt a government in which "all power derives from the people."

Since then, government spokesmen have said Egypt has "no further use" either for exiled ex-King Farouk or for his son, infant King Ahmad Fuad II.

Christie Committed, Pleads Not Guilty

Murder Hearing of British Clerk Marked by Revival of Evans Case

LONDON (UP)—Thin, nearsighted John R. Christie was ordered today to stand trial for murder. The "Notting Hill Strangler" is accused of luring young women to his dingy flat, strangling them and hiding their bodies in the walls, floor and garden of his home.

The baldish, 55-year-old clerk and former volunteer policeman will stand trial in London's Old Bailey sometime late in June.

He will be tried on an indictment accusing him of one of the series of murders of which he is suspect.

But a total of eight murders—including two for which another man was hanged—were mentioned in today's preliminary hearing in which he was bound over for trial.

Derek Curtis-Bennett, famous criminal lawyer who is defending Christie, startled courtroom spectators by pointing out that two victims of a 1949 murder in the same house in which Christie lived were tied and garroted in the same way Christie has confessed killing four women.

Christie was the chief witness at the trial of Timothy Evans, who was executed after he was found guilty of killing his wife, Mrs. Timothy Evans, and their young daughter, Geraldine.

Evans admitted following his arrest that he had strangled his wife and daughter in a shoddy tenement building where Christie also resided and which came to be known as "murder house."

But Evans withdrew his confession and accused Christie, then a volunteer policeman, of committing the murders.

THREE FEARED DEAD IN SHIP COLLISION

507 Saved After Ferry Ramm'd In North Sea

HARWICH, Eng. (UP)—The British Railways said tonight that three persons were feared dead aboard its steamer, Duke of York, which was rammed and cut in half early today by the American military cargo ship, Haiti Victory.

HARWICH, Eng. (AP)—Two American ships brought hundreds of passengers to safety today from a British channel ferry sliced through in a pre-dawn collision with an American transport in the North Sea.

Survivors were landed here and at Dover after a quick transfer of passengers 40 miles off Harwich on England's east coast averted a sea disaster. A woman and her baby were trapped for several hours in the listing ferry.

All of the passengers, most of them British army families returning home from Germany, were from the 4,190-ton Duke of York.

The steamer and the 7,607-ton transport Haiti Victory rammed into each other near Galloper lightship. The Duke of York had 437 passengers aboard and crew of 70, officials said.

The Haiti Victory brought the bulk of the passengers ashore here despite an eight-foot gash in her bows six feet above the waterline.

She had the Duke of York in tow for a while but that task was taken over later by tugs.

A 10,687-ton American-Hawaiian Steamship Company vessel, the American Merchant, took 91 survivors aboard and hurried to Dover with them. Four were reported seriously injured.

Damage to the Haiti Victory appeared superficial to that suffered by the ferry. Everything forward to the superstructure had disappeared on the Duke of York. Capt. R. B. Adams, her master, and a skeleton crew of 15 remained aboard to work the vessel, which was reported taking some water.

Police Question 764 Mau Mau Held After Big Round-Up

NAIROBI, Kenya (UP)—Police today began questioning 764 Mau Mau suspects seized in the biggest round-up since the secret murder ring began its reign of terror in this British African colony.

Even while the dragnet was out, Mau Mau hatchet men were busy. They hacked a native child to death with their pangas—bush knives—and wounded his mother.

Police sifted 736 of the suspects out of a crowd of natives that surrounded Nairobi's suburban Kariakor market. Many others seized in the market were released after brief interrogation.

NARCOTICS FALSE CRUTCH DECLARES SINGING STAR

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—One of the top torch singers in the United States, Mary Ann McCall, pleaded guilty Tuesday to possession of narcotics and then told reporters, "The H-bait (heroin) is a false crutch."

Judge George Schofield will pass sentence May 19. It could run from 90 days to six years.

The red-haired, 33-year-old singer originally pleaded innocent and spent 23 days in jail.

"Don't get on the H," she advised. "If you do, blow your brains out—it's the best way out."

"You know, I was the No. 1 girl vocalist in Metronome and Esquire and Downbeat magazines in 1950—singing with Charlie Barnet, Woody Herman, Benny Goodman and Artie Shaw. Look at me now," she said at a press conference.

"I had an $18,000 home, and it's gone. I spent $400 to $500 a week for the stuff."

GRAIN TO FLOW AGAIN AS WORKERS END STRIKE

FROM UP AND CP DISPATCHES

VANCOUVER—The West Coast grain workers' strike ended in its 80th day today when the strikers voted to accept a settlement plan with a 7½-cent hourly pay boost.

Elevator operators accepted the proposals Tuesday. Workers gained two additional paid statutory holidays and other fringe benefits.

Some workers were expected back on the job today getting the five giant terminals ready to spout grain into the holds of waiting ships early Thursday.

More than 6,500,000 bushels of wheat are stored in the five Vancouver and New Westminster elevators. Another 9,000,000 bushels are in 5,000 stalled grain cars on rail sidings throughout British Columbia.

Port officials said it would take from three weeks to a month to clear up the congestion and get the record flow of prairie grain to the West Coast back to normal.

SOCRED 'SMEARS' ANGER LAING

Liberal Leader, to Speak Here Tonight, Says Bennett Speech Shows No Policy

By GORDON FORBES, Times Legislative Reporter

Liberal leader Arthur Laing, angered at the Social Credit "smear campaign," today called the Socreds "a party made up of career Tories, funny money boys, and bandwagon riders."

19 Canadian Casualties in Latest List

OTTAWA (CP)—A Korean casualty list today reported 19 further casualties resulting from the May 3 battle in which Canadians repelled a heavy Communist attack, bringing total reported casualties of that action to 62.

Today's list included five men killed, one officer missing in action, believed killed, two men missing, believed prisoners-of-war, and 11 men wounded in action.

Fifteen of those in today's list were members of the Royal Canadian Regiment, which bore the brunt of the Red offensive. Four were members of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Poile Gets New Offer

EDMONTON (CP)—Bud Poile, 29-year-old playing coach who led Edmonton Flyers to the Western Hockey League championships, has been offered a new two-year contract.

Aid for Injured Workers

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons today gave final reading to a government bill extending unemployment insurance to workers who become ill or injured after being laid off work for other reasons. The measure now goes to the Senate for ratification.

Attacking a "planless" Opposition for throwing the Social Credit government out of power, Mr. Bonner said the other parties blundered in voting against the formula and now are trying to cover up.

CCF candidates for Vancouver Centre, James Bury and Mrs. Laura Jamieson, took turns lambasting the Social Credit government for its actions in the recent legislature session.

Mr. Bury said the Social Crediters had no platform or policies and only promised good government. Mrs. Jamieson said there was no reason for this election and although the present government's main theme was economy, yet the election was going to cost $750,000.

Mrs. Tom Hurley, wife of a prominent Vancouver lawyer, has launched a slander suit against two men over an allegation said to have been made during the 1952 provincial election.

Writes named as defendants: Douglas Wilkinson, editor of Indian Time, and Ralph Goodman, president of the Vancouver Centre Liberal Association.

U.S., Canada Funds Trade Here at Par

American and Canadian money is trading at par in Victoria banks today.

Purchasers of small quantities of American bills are getting the same sum as they pay in Canadian funds.

Deposits of American money are being discounted three-quarters of one per cent.

Currency exchanges—American for Canadian—are on the basis of 90 cents Canadian for each American dollar.

U.S. Consulting France, Thailand, Says Dulles

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States is discussing "possible United Nations action" to curb Communist aggression which he said threatens all southeast Asia and possibly Japan.

Dulles, testifying before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, branded the Red attack on the Indo-Chinese kingdom of Laos as "straight out aggression."

The secretary said "we are in conversation" with France, with Laos' neighbor, Thailand, and Vietnam "with regard to possible UN action."

Dulles was testifying about President Eisenhower's new $5,800,000,000 foreign aid program, in which includes sizable sums to help France in her defense of Indo-China.

At the same time, Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen was telling the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the United States is sending "large quantities" of planes, tanks and ammunition to Indo-China.

Fall of that region to the Reds, Stassen said, would be of "critical importance" to U.S. security.

Dulles said the Communist troops attacking Laos apparently were trained and equipped in Communist China.

Under the new foreign aid program, Indo-China would share in direct arms shipments to Asia totaling $1,001,000,000. In addition $400,000,000 is provided to help the French finance their war against the Reds.

Lull on Laos Front, Thai Marshals Forces

HANOI, Indo-China (AP)—French Laotian patrols swept in a wide arc around the royal residence city of Luang Prabang in Laos today but failed to contact Communist-led Vietnamese troops.

The calm on the Laos invasion fronts indicated the Vietnamese is awaiting fresh supplies and is regrouping before making an onslaught on Luang Prabang or Vietnamese, the official capital.

Meanwhile the build-up of French-Laotian defenses continued at Vientiane, a town of 20,000 population across the Mekong River from Thailand.

The Thais have begun moving 60,000 Vietnamese, mostly of fighting age, from along the northern border deep into west and northwestern Thailand as a precaution against Communist invasion.

The move was apparently aimed at preventing Vietnamese who fled into Thongbo border areas at the start of the Indo-China war from being swept up and used by the Vietnamese in the event Moscow-trained Ho Chi Minh's forces reach the Mekong and try to extend their "liberation" program and cross into Thailand.

French intelligence reports have disclosed that three generals and four colonels who received their military training in Communist China are masterminding the Laos invasion.

Political Pot

Social Crediters are having their internal troubles in various parts of British Columbia as party nominations develop into much sought-after prizes.

The latest comes from North Okanagan riding where E. A. Lecours, president of the riding association and a candidate for the nomination, accused his opponents within the party of "using dirty politics against me in the past 10 days."

Mr. Lecours was outvoted for the candidacy by former MLA and deputy speaker in the last House, Hugh Shantz of Vernon.

Smouldering discontent also is reported in the Fort George riding where Lew King, MLA in the last Legislature, was defeated in his bid for re-nomination by school inspector Ray Williston.

Two weeks ago the president of the Kamloops riding association, Walter J. Smith, publicly rapped Public Works Minister F. A. Gardiner over the knuckles for campaigning for re-election before his nomination.

Mrs. Tom Hurley, wife of a prominent Vancouver lawyer, has launched a slander suit against two men over an allegation said to have been made during the 1952 provincial election.

Writes named as defendants: Douglas Wilkinson, editor of Indian Time, and Ralph Goodman, president of the Vancouver Centre Liberal Association.

CROSSWORD EXPERTS WIN ON ALTERNATES QUESTION

The dyed-in-the-wool crossword fans among Times readers have won their battle on the weekly crossword contest. They have complained bitterly because we printed possible alternate words for some of the definitions, claiming it was more fun to puzzle out their own answers.

As Mrs. F. C. Summerville of Patricia Bay puts it: "Give us back the challenge of finding our own words, even if we still must deal with a quibbler" (no definitions).

In the next crossword, appearing Friday, the alternates will not be given. Judges are working this afternoon on the entries to Puzzle No. 6. Results will be published tomorrow.

Secrecy Report 'All Wet' Say Socreds

TRAIL (CP)—Social Credit headquarters here Wednesday denounced as "all wet" a newspaper report that Premier W. A. C. Bennett has dropped a veil of secrecy over his movements because of recent outbreaks in the Doukhobor-troubled Kootenays.

Premier Bennett is slated to open provincial election campaigning in Trail-Rossland riding with an address tonight. Describing the report as false, Carl Loeblick, Social Credit League president here, said the premier's route was published.

Three Royal Air Force Canberra jet bombers will fly the films across the Atlantic to Goose Bay at different times during the day.

In addition, her father, George A. Holloway, receives $971 for expenses which he incurred and $200 for legal costs.

British Firms to Get Preference

CHESTER, Eng. (Reuters)—British firms will get priority at the Duke of Westminster's new industrial site on Annacis Island, near Vancouver.

"We must be prepared to accept building applications from anyone, of course, but we feel it is necessary to give every encouragement to those wanting to crash the North American market," said George Ridley, the duke's chief agent.

Canadian Help in Indo-China Urged

OTTAWA (CP)—Parliament's first suggestion that Canada should help out in the French Indo-China war and that a profound change of attitude may have come over Moscow emerged Tuesday in a Commons debate. External Affairs Minister Pearson did not agree with either of them.

Opposition front-bencher Howard Green (PC, Vancouver-Quadra) suggested Canada might at least offer transport planes to the embattled French and native forces now in a "very serious predicament in the face of Communist onslaughts."

De Gaulle's Party to Quit Elections

PARIS (Reuters)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle announced today that his Rally of the French People would no longer contest elections or take part in parliamentary life as an organized body.

His followers in the rally suffered a severe setback in recent municipal elections. There has also been dissension inside the party.

Liberal Leader Wants to Know if Top Men
Subscribe to Complete Monetary Theories

"It would be provident for the people of B.C. to know whether Mr. Bennett, Mr. Bonner and Mr. Gunderson have signed a document that they accept all Social Credit monetary theories in full," Liberal Leader Arthur Laing said here today.

"I just received a letter from Ottawa over the signature of Rev. E. G. Hansell, MP, president of the Social Credit League, which says everyone who joins the movement is required to sign such a document. The financial theories of Solon Law and Rev. Hansell and John Blackmore would mean destruction of all Canadian savings and the Canadian economy in 24 hours."

"Eight months ago Premier Bennett cried 'on to Ottawa, on to Ottawa.' I call on him to explain what he meant."

Mr. Laing arrived in Victoria this morning for a full day of electioneering at the handshaking level, inspection tours, conferences, which will be climaxed tonight by an address to a meeting in the lower ballroom of the Crystal Garden.

(Party officials said the meeting is open to the public, and everybody is welcome. All Greater Victoria Liberal candidates will be present.)

NO POLICY

Mr. Laing said Premier Bennett's policy speech at Summerland Monday night actually contained no policy.

"If the Social Credit party came in a year ago to fill a vacuum, they came only to increase the size of the vacuum. If it was a caretaker government, all B.C. is offered for the future is a caretaker government," he said.

The Liberal leader is alarmed "at the speed with which the Social Crediters are picking up mud and throwing it at their opponents."

From AP and UP Dispatches
Meanwhile, other political speakers went into action last night as the political pot boiled for the June 9 provincial election.

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said the "Rolson formula" for financing education would have saved Vancouver ratepayers two mills in 1953.

Attacking a "planless" Opposition for throwing the Social Credit government out of power, Mr. Bonner said the other parties blundered in voting against the formula and now are trying to cover up.

CCF candidates for Vancouver Centre, James Bury and Mrs. Laura Jamieson, took turns lambasting the Social Credit government for its actions in the recent legislature session.

THREE FEARED DEAD IN SHIP COLLISION

507 Saved After Ferry Ramm'd
In North Sea

HARWICH, Eng. (UP)—The British Railways said tonight that three persons were feared dead aboard its steamer, Duke of York, which was rammed and cut in half early today by the American military cargo ship, Haiti Victory.

HARWICH, Eng. (AP)—Two American ships brought hundreds of passengers to safety today from a British channel ferry sliced through in a pre-dawn collision with an American transport in the North Sea.

Survivors were landed here and at Dover after a quick transfer of passengers 40 miles off Harwich on England's east coast averted a sea disaster. A woman and her baby were trapped for several hours in the listing ferry.

All of the passengers, most of them British army families returning home from Germany, were from the 4,190-ton Duke of York.

The steamer and the 7,607-ton transport Haiti Victory rammed into each other near Galloper lightship. The Duke of York had 437 passengers aboard and crew of 70, officials said.

The Haiti Victory brought the bulk of the passengers ashore here despite an eight-foot gash in her bows six feet above the waterline.

She had the Duke of York in tow for a while but that task was taken over later by tugs. A 10,687-ton American-Hawaiian Steamship Company vessel, the American Merchant, took 91 survivors aboard and hurried to Dover with them. Four were reported seriously injured.

Damage to the Haiti Victory appeared superficial to that suffered by the ferry. Everything forward to the superstructure had disappeared on the Duke of York. Capt. R. E. Adams, her master, and a skeleton crew of 15 remained aboard to work the vessel, which was reported taking some water.

Christie Committed, Pleads Not Guilty

Murder Hearing of British Clerk
Marked by Revival of Evans Case

LONDON (UP)—Thin, nearsighted John R. Christie was ordered today to stand trial for murder. The Notting Hill clerk is accused of luring young women to his dingy flat, strangling them and hiding their bodies in the walls, floor and garden of his home.

The baldish, 55-year-old clerk and former volunteer policeman will stand trial in London's Old Bailey sometime late in June. He will be tried on an indictment accusing him of only one of the series of murders of which he is suspect.

But a total of eight murders—including two for which another man was hanged—were mentioned in today's preliminary hearing in which he was bound over for trial.

Derek Curtis-Bennett, famous criminal lawyer who is defending Christie, startled courtroom spectators by pointing out that two victims of a 1949 murder in the same house in which Christie lived were tied and garroted in the same way Christie has confessed killing four women.

Christie was the chief witness at the trial of Timothy Evans, who was executed after he was found guilty of killing his wife, Mrs. Timothy Evans, and their young daughter, Geraldine.

Evans admitted following his arrest that he had strangled his wife and daughter in a shoddy tenement building where Christie also resided and which came to be known as "murder house."

U.S. Consults France As Reds Back-Pedal

HANOI, Indo-China (BUP)—Vietminh Communist invaders are withdrawing northward through Laos in a sudden move that may mean their offensive is ended, the French high command announced tonight.

The quick turn in the situation occurred as the Reds were within 25 miles of the Thailand (Siam) border and French paratroopers prepared to go into action from newly-arrived American planes.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States is discussing "possible United Nations action" to curb Communist aggression which he said threatens all southeast Asia and possibly Japan.

Dulles, testifying before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, branded the Red attack on the Indo-Chinese kingdom of Laos as "straight out aggression."

The secretary said "we are in conversation" with France, with Laos' neighbor, Thailand, and Vietnam "with regard to possible UN action."

Dulles was testifying about President Eisenhower's new $5,800,000,000 foreign aid program, which includes sizable sums to help Communist China.

Japan's Position Precarious

Thailand apparently is the next target, Dulles said. The fall of Laos and Thailand to the Reds would make the position of Burma "extremely acute," Dulles said, and Indonesia would be jeopardized.

"If southeast Asia should go under, the position of Japan would be extremely precarious," he added.

Stassen's testimony was based on data and appraisals prepared for Congress by the executive department. He emphasized that the fall of any free nation in Asia could "seriously" undermine the security of all.

The administration gave no specific figures on military shipments to Indo-China, past or planned. But it said U.S. aid already has been a "major factor" in checking the Reds.

The appraisal submitted by Stassen said: "It is essential that the scale of United Nations military assistance (to Indo-China) be increased in order to assure the success of the resistance against Communist pressures."

Under the new foreign aid program, Indo-China would share in direct arms shipments to Asia totaling $1,000,000,000. In addition $400,000,000 is provided to help the French finance their war against the Reds.

Elsewhere in Victoria and B.C., labor leaders have branded the premier's action as a "vote-getter."

"He's repenting too late for not introducing labor legislation in the session," said Charles A. Peck, business agent for the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (I.B.E.W.) in Victoria.

"It's purely a catcher for labor votes," according to E. T. Staley, secretary of the I.L.C. Provincial Council of Carpenters.

The government might scrutinize, but the scrutineer would still have to "call the shots" on eligibility under the act, which can only be changed by the legislature, Mr. Smeal said.

FROM UP AND CP DISPATCHES
VANCOUVER—The West Coast grain workers' strike ended in its 80th day today when the strikers voted to accept a settlement plan with a 7½-cent hourly pay boost.

Elevator operators accepted the proposals Tuesday. Workers gained two additional paid statutory holidays and other fringe benefits.

Some workers were expected back on the job today getting the five giant terminals ready to spout grain into the holds of waiting ships early Thursday.

More than 6,500,000 bushels of wheat are stored in the five Vancouver and New Westminster elevators. Another 9,000,000 bushels are in 5,000 stalled grain cars on rail sidings throughout British Columbia.

Port officials said it would take from three weeks to a month to clear up the congestion and get the record flow of prairie grain to the West Coast back to normal.
